IN MEMORIAM

Better than anyone else he told the truth about his time, the first half of the 20th Century. He was a professional. He wrote honestly and well.

Some time ago, early in his Princeton Years, which started in 1953, the late John Henry O'Hara was asked by a young reporter what he would write about himself if he chanced to be a critic. The two terse sentences quoted above were the characteristically forthright reply of one of the master literary artisans of his time whose sudden death over the weekend in his Pretty Brook Road home brought sadness to 1,000's of readers and undying dismay to those convinced that the "magnificently irreverent" O'Hara at age 65 "belonged right up there with William Faulkner, Ernest Hemingway and Scott Fitzgerald."

For reasons not clear to many, particularly in the later years when there was time to evaluate the worth and impact of his novels, short stories and plays, major recognition – aside from tremendous popularity – never came to O'Hara. He was nominated for Nobel and Pulitzer Prizes, received a gold medal of merit from the American Academy of Arts and Letters but was never "the pet of intellectuals and eggheads." He once recalled, almost prophetically: "I'm an extremely conscientious writer and I know my trade. When I write a novel, I do a lot of digging. I was okay for good notices when a book came out, but not good enough for an award. It used to hurt quite a bit."

Living in the relative calm of Princeton, working incredible hours in the quiet of the night, and once wrongly described as "a new Ring Lardner," O'Hara seldom succeeded in inspiring unanimity among critics – or even agreement between two. In 1960, for instance, one, reviewing "Sermons and Soda Water," found O'Hara "at his best and most compassionate." Another, writing for a leading literary publication, welcomed the same three novellas "as one who has suffered intensely from Mr. O'Hara's work in longer form" and therefore applauds "any reason at all for his abandonment of it and thanks providence that, for whatever motive, he has decided to stay his hand."

Whatever the critical reactions might have been, O'Hara had a remarkable, almost unique feeling for words as they poured from his typewriter and, perhaps most important of all, he was as American as the town of Pottsville, Pa., where he grew up as the eldest in a family of eight children. Like one of his major heroes, the tragic Hemingway, whom some two decades ago he described as the greatest author since Shakespeare, he was the son of a physician, a non-college product and a trained journalist. He started out as reporter with the Pottsville Journal, sharpened his ear for dialogue in a staggering variety of occupations, crashed the journalistic "big time" as an assistant to the late Heywood Broun and made Who's Who at age 29.

The appearance of "Appointment in Samarra" (1934), still enjoying wide circulation in paperback form, established O'Hara as a writer of the first rank. Butterfield" and a succession of top-notch short stories were followed by "Pal Joey," a landmark in the American theater, which twice made box office news and added to the American lexicon such "New Yawkese" terms as "moola" (money) and "mice" (women). In 1949 "A Rage to Live" generated the liveliest and longest literary discussions of the year. His first collection of essays, "Sweet and Sour," was

LUXURY APARTMENTS? A developer wants to build a dozen homes (1-12 on map) in and around the old Borough sewer field on Elm Road, but some Borough Councilmen think even apartments and luxury apartments, at that, would be preferable. Dotted flood-plain land cannot be built on by law. (Story, page 3)

WHITHER PRINCETON?

Thoughts from Planners. Which of Princeton's problems should be worked on first — traffic? housing? 92-A by-pass? Or, indeed, what ARE Princeton's problems?

Standard cocktail conversation, perhaps. But the 14 members of the new Regional Borough-Township Planning Board have the leverage to act on some of these problems, and so their views on priorities and needs have considerable importance.

When the board met for the first time on January 6, 1970, its new chairman, Hans K. Sander, asked the 14 to send him a memo answering the question, "What should we work on?"

Nine of the 14 have so far replied: both mayors, Robert W. Cawley of the Borough and John D. Wallace of the Township, Norman Williams, James A. Floyd, William Sutphin, T. B. Fisher, William H. Walker, Joseph R. Nini and Mr. Sander.

Housing First. Because most of them felt that housing was urgent (although not all of them listed it first) a housing study is the board's first proposal.

It will probably be undertaken by George Sternlieb, urban planning expert from Rutgers, at a cost of $15,000.

Broadly Speaking. The two mayors and one or two other board members took a broad view of planning for Princeton. Mayor Wallace gave prime consideration to the developing character of Princeton and how it might be influenced by growth in surrounding communities — the so-called "Macy Mall" in Lawrence, Squibb, a giant "town" planned for Plainsboro, West Windsor's development of Alexander Street, Montgomery's plans for Route 206.

Mayor Cawley suggested a look at Princeton's population— many people talk about the advantages of a "mix," instead of a homogenous population. Well, what kind of "mix"? Mayor Cawley asks. The answer for example, would determine what kind of housing is to be made available.

Joseph R. Nini suggested community development along decentralized lines, with small, neighborhood shopping spots in the Township.

How to keep from being absorbed into megalopolis is Princeton's greatest problem, in the view of T. B. Fisher. He would like to encourage surrounding towns to promote large-lot residential use so that Princeton will not become "a tiny island surrounded by a vast Levittown."

Facts First. Spend 1970 collecting data, advised William Sutphin, and don't embark on a joint Borough-Township Master Plan until data has been assembled.

"Careful survey of the existing realities," is a nice phrase Mr. Sutphin used to mean "let's not recommend what Princeton can't afford" and when he says "data" he means dollars and cents as well as housing counts (although he urged assembling housing statistics as soon as possible.)

Mr. Sutphin also pointed out that municipalities, for a small fee can get 1970 census data in advance of publication, maybe as early as this fall, and this could provide a boost to any housing study.

"Get the facts" was the advice of Norman Williams, too, especially where housing is concerned. There are no reliable estimates of the ways Princeton's housing needs are going to change — how many older families will want smaller homes? and so on — and Mr. Williams warned that pressures for low and middle-income housing are more likely to increase than to go away.

The Princeton community and the planners must provide the climate and the push for the solution of all housing problems— stated James A. Floyd. All economic groups, all ethnic groups, all age groups have a housing problem, he pointed out.

Mayor Wallace underscored housing, too. And he took a significant step toward the brink?) joined by Mr. Nini, and Hans K. Sander, suggesting that the Township consider apartments. Not just low-middle-income, but apartments, generally.

Jam! Traffic presses, quite literally, on everyone. Mr. Sutphin urged immediate talks with the new Governor and his Administration on 92-A, the by-pass that may some day take trucks around Princeton.

Mr. Williams' view is that Princeton's thinking on the whole traffic problem should be "radically reconsidered," but he admitted he had no solution.

He cited Wilbur Smith's traffic study of Nassau Street three or four years ago, a study predicting a 70% growth in traffic in 15-20 years. "It's growing even warmly received in 1951, while two years later "Ten North Frederick" carried off one of the National Book Awards. "Lovely Childs: A Philadelphian's Story," which came out last December, was the 37th and last volume in his huge body of work.

For his highly original contributions to American literature; for serving as spokesman and chronicler for a generation whose members — in the words of one of O'Hara's own narrators — "were the losing, not the lost, generation;" for being "O'Hara of Princeton;" he shall long be remembered.

faster," Mr. Williams said gloomily.

Mayor Cawley said he'd like to see present parking lots developed to meet all the needs of the whole area, not merely enough parking, but convenient parking.

He proposed planning for a mix of shops, offices, housing (moderate-income) and parking, so aesthetically designed that there would be no barrier between business and residential areas.

The Loop Road that will eventually loop the Township is high in the planners' thoughts, too. Mr. Sander, for example, impatiently waits results of the 32,000 interviews made in the Regional Development Association traffic study of the Loop Road area.

He'd like to sit down and reevaluate both Borough and Township circulation maps and policies, and he said he would like to zero in on those land uses that are potential generators of more traffic.

Bus Stop? From traffic, it's only a step to board the bus, and it seems possible that mass transportation may be the Planning Board's second area of study after housing.

Almost all nine board members recommended some kind of movement in this field. Minibuses were mentioned again, along with possible public transportation into Princeton of people who work outside.

Several board members, including Mr. Fisher, Mr. Williams and Mr. Sander, hope for stronger links of communication with Princeton's institutions. Mr. Sander mentioned the Princeton Regional School Board's Long-Range Planning Committee.

Tell Us More. Even more important in communications, however, are open channels to surrounding towns.

Mr. Floyd urged regularly-scheduled meetings with neighboring municipalities, perhaps four times a year, to exchange planning thoughts and information. Mr. Sander, for example, is uneasy about Lawrence Township's proposed Arctic Parkway by-pass which dead-ends into Provinceline Road at Carson Road. "And where," he asks, "does the traffic go from there?"

Mr. Williams looked broadly into the planning field, and proposed regular liaison with all other agencies, besides municipalities, that are concerned with planning. There is already cooperation by the new board with the Regional Development Council and the Middlesex-Somerset-Mercer Regional Study Council.

There were some other thoughts too, of course. The new board is consciously striving for a community-wide outlook, but some Township members expressed their concern over the Township's hilly, rocky Office-Research zone which is stubbornly resistant to new rateables. What should be done: form a development commission (the area yields $250 more per acre in taxes as Office Research than as Residential) or give the whole thing up and change the zoning?

Board members with a technical outlook want to harmonize differences in Borough and Township educational zones . . . one member wants to untangle the jackstraw parking at the foot of University Place . . . and there are two separate site-plan review policies to . . . harmonize? keep separate? study?

It's a full-time job . . . for 14 volunteers.

POSTAL ANNEX APPROVED

By West Windsor. West Windsor Township Committee voted unanimously on Monday in favor of a Princeton post office annex in the old D. Van Nostrand building, Alexander Road.

Previously a use variance had been granted by the zoning board to allow the annex in a light industry zone. The Township Committee added a requirement that landscape plantings be added to the front of the building.

The D. Van Nostrand building is owned by V. P. Realty. It contains about 22,500 sq. ft. of space and will be rented on a two-year basis. It will assume the operations now centered in the postal annex on University Place. Princeton's 33 letter carriers and the 19 postal people will operate from West Windsor when the transfer is made.

TWO STUDENTS CAUGHT

In U-Store Break-In. Two Princeton University freshmen have been charged by Borough police with breaking and entering the Princeton University Store early Monday morning.

Released in $500 bail to await a hearing set for May 6 are Stephen W. Hunter, 19, of 212 Brown Hall, and Thomas A. Streiferdt, 18, of 112 Brown Hall. Police said that their bail was posted by Dean William Moore. Ptl. Anthony Ranfone made the charge.

The police, acting on information supplied by security police for the University, surrounded the U-Store a few minutes after 4 a.m. According to Chief Peter J. McCrohan, the two were apprehended inside the store.

Entry was gained by breaking a second floor window over a loading platform, police said.

BOROUGH APARTMENTS?

Maybe, in Land Swap. The startling possibility of new apartments, maybe even luxury apartments, in the Borough was raised at Council's agenda meeting Thursday night.

William Augustine, the developer, has a proposition. He wants to trade some low lying flood-plain land just off Elm Road, for six acres of higher land in the adjoining old Borough sewer field. He would combine these six acres with 14 more he owns, and build 12 houses, some in the Borough and some in the Township. He can't, by law, build in the flood plain.

A flat "no" came from Councilmen Alice Male and James Andrews. Other Councilmen and Mayor Robert W. Cawley were cool. Councilmen Robert Hendry and Fred Peterson were absent.

"We cannot allow any more large houses in the Borough on one and-one - half to two acre lots," Mrs. Male declared. "Even luxury apartments on that site would be preferable," and she suggested re-zoning for that purpose.

Mr. Andrews said he would rather hold the sewer field for middle income housing in case other sites failed.

The land in question lies partly in the Borough and partly in the Township (see map, page 1). Mr. Augustine has offered his 11 acres of flood-plain land to the Township Open Space Commission. He would build a bicycle path along the right-of way of the old trolley line and construct a segment of Terhune Road (just off the map, north). The locations of his 12 proposed houses are shown by numbers.

Council told Thomas Cook, Open Space lawyer who presented the proposal, to go back and ask Mr. Augustine if he'd be willing to build apartments instead of houses.

A private developer like Mr. Augustine — his firm is Hunt & Augustine — can obtain state funds for moderate-to-low-income housing but he has to take less in profit, Mrs. Male stated.

There's a legal question involved in the possible exchange. Administrator Robert F. Mooney adn attorney Gordon Griffin believe that the sewer field, as public land, may have to be put up for public auction.

The land, in a choice residential section of the Borough, might command a steep price, Mrs. Male said. She added that it was too valuable to be part of such a trade, especially for single-family luxury homes.

In other business at the agenda meeting, Council heard members of the League of Women Voters defend their housing study of a few years ago to Councilman Alan Carrick, who had questioned the study's statistics.

The League had used 1960 census data which Lowell F. Curtis Sr., told Council is not reliable for small municipalities. League members pointed out it was the only data they had.

The Princeton Nursery School, a United Fund agency on Leigh Avenue, has asked for some Community Park land for an annex. Council did not oppose the request — the school's trustees had already appeared before Township Committee in executive session — but told the trustees to go to the Joint Recreation Commission and the Regional Planning Board.

END OF A FIELD FIRE: Princeton volunteer firemen Dave McCloskey (left) and Billy Corcoran hose down the last embers in a field fire Thursday behind the Gerard B. Lambert estate on Province Line Road. The remote fire, which blackened a couple of acres of field grass, was reported by a group of Hun School boys in the school library who smelled smoke. A general alarm was sounded at 2:15 p.m. (Staff Photo)

PARKING FINES UP

From $2 to $4. The price of a parking ticket in the Borough will jump from $2 to $4 as of May 1, Mayor Robert W. Cawley revealed at Council meeting Tuesday night.

Actually, the Borough can't raise the ante until Superior Court Judge Frank J. Kingfield tells Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams that it's all right to do so, but approval is expected shortly.

Council listened while William Reinheimer for the Chamber of Commerce declared that "parking in Princeton is more serious than traffic." The Chamber had written the Borough on March 6 asking Council to consider a Parking Authority, and Mr Reinheimer wanted a progress report.

Mayor Cawley and Councilman James Andrews replied that parking cannot be separated from other problems: transportation, land use in the Central Busines District, and so on.

Parking Makes Traffic. When Mr. Andrews referred to a parking facility in Allentown, Pa that was built by the town's businessmen, Mr. Reinheimer said quickly that the Chamber thinks parking is a municipal problem.

Mr. Andrews then quoted his colleague Councilman Alan Carrick who once said that parking doesn't solve traffic, it creates it. He proposed stricter meter enforcement.

This brought Police Chief Peter J. McCrohan to his feet: 1,129 overtime tickets were issued in March in the business district, he reported, plus 20-25 summonses for meter-feeding.

He gave Council and Mr. Reinheimer a lurid description of the ethics and practices of all-day parkers.

"You mark the tires with chalk in the morning. They'll rub the chalf off, or maybe move the car two or three feet. Give them a ticket, they'll leave it on the car all day—they think that makes the car immune, but it doesn't. You can't leave a ticket on a car all day and get away with it."

I remember him as if it were yesterday, as he came plodding to the inn door, his sea chest following behind him in a hand-barrow; a tall, strong, heavy, nut-brown man; his tarry pigtail falling over the shoulders of his soiled blue coot; his hands ragged and scarred, with black, broken nails; and the sabre cut across one cheek, a dirty, livid white. I remember him looking around the cove and whistling to himsell as he did so, and then breaking out in that old seasong that he sang so often afterwards: — 'Fifteen men on The Dead Man's Chest — Yo-ho-ho, and o bottle of rum!'

"We've been urging people to park on Sheldon, Mercer, Boudinot, Alexander, Edgehill," the chief said.

Walk? Who, Me? Mayor Cawley said the trouble was Princetonians didn't like to walk. "If you park in a garage in Trenton, you have a long walk to where you want to go," he said. "People won't do that here."

Councilmon Charles Cornforth asked Mr. Reinheimer if employers around town thought their employees would be willing to walk, if they had an all-day parking place somewhere.

"If such a place were available, employers could insist on it," he replied.

Lowell F. Curran Sr. said setting up a Parking Authority would be unwise. Interest on the bonds would be prohibitively high, he said, and besides, the municipality would be liable in case of default.

Mr. Reinheimer shrugged: "By the time any Authority is established here, interest rates would probably be more favorable. Just don't forget — construction costs are going up."

Water Up? The Princeton Water Company's request for a rate increase will be heard again before the Public Utilities Commission May 5, 6 and 7.

Martin P. Lombardo accused the company of "lack of social responsibility" and asked Council to see whether former Mayor Henry S. Patterson would "intercede" in the Borough's behalf. Mr. Patterson is executive vice president of the Elizabethtown Water Company parent company.

Mr. Cornforth said the Borough hopes to retain accountant C. Bergen Groendyke, who audits the municipal books each year, to assist the state's rate counsel in preparing material for the hearings. Council has gone on record as opposing the rate increase.

Drugs. Princeton's two mayors have issued a five-cause statement on drugs, and Township Mayor John D. Wallace came to Borough Hall Tuesday night to join Mayor Cawley in emphasizing the seriousness of the problem.

"It's getting worse," Mayor Wallace stated. The report adds that it's worse in terms of the number of youths affected and in terms of increased use of more dangerous drugs.

"We believe," the mayors state, "that there is hope in some of the responses that are already organized or getting organized, in our community. It will be a long fight."

Of the $50,000 required for the Child Guidance drug program, $10,000 each has been budgeted by Borough and Township; $10,000 has been allocated by the United Fund; $5,000 by the University and $5,000 donated by the Junior League of Trenton, for a $40,000 total. Also, "several thousand dollars" has been donated by individuals, the mayors state.

Copies of the report are available in Borough Hall.

To Rights Commission. In other business, Tuesday night, Mayor Cawley appointed Grady C. Harris, 199 John Street, to the Civil Rights Commission, succeeding Mrs. Sara Harris (no relation) whose term expired.

Council passed the municipal salary ordinance and the equipment-and-sewer ordinance. A package of amendments to the parking ordinance was introduced and hearing set for May 12.

Councilman Alice Male reported a bill from Princeton Hospital for $2,487 for the care of indigent patients during January and February.

Currently, the Borough gave $27,000 a year to the hospital for care of "medically indigent" Borough patients. Under a new county reinvirement, the hospital bills the Borough directly, after deducting the county's share, and the state reimburses the municipality for 75% of the costs.

Mrs. Male—who observed that Princeton Hospital's rate went up in March from $78.40 a day to $87.96—said that out-patient costs haven't been included in the billing, so nobody knows whether the hospital will come out ahead or not.

The Borough budgeted $10,000 for 1970 for these costs. The Borough doesn't expect to come out ahead.

WOMAN'S WALLET TAKEN

From Hospital Ward. Mrs. Elaine Rakoski of Garden View Terrace, Hightstown, was the victim of a $15 theft last week at Princeton Hospital.

She told police that she discovered her wallet had been stolen from her purse which she had left on a night stand Thursday afternoon in the pediatric ward. During a search, a nurse found the empty wallet on a first floor landing. Ptl. Joseph Wilhelm investigated.

Is bad news
For the baseball scene.

The 24 hours' worth of precipitation that began Tuesday brought this part of the world to near its normal precipitation for the entire month of April. And that's not all . . .

The possibility of more showers late Thursday or Friday is on the map, the Man reports. There's a bright spot, though: chances are good for a weekend that will be generally fair and mild.

Hospital's Future May Include "Branch"

Princeton Hospital will continue to be an "area" hospital, but a study committee will shortly begin to probe the medical needs of Hightstown, East Windsor and Cranbury to see whether some kinds of hospital care could be given on the spot, relieving population pressures on the hospital itself.

John W. Kauffman, formerly administrator and now executive vice-president of Princeton Hospital, outlined the institution's 10-year plans last week before members of the joint Borough-Township Planning Board.

"The hospital has been designated part of 'area 9' by the state's department of Institutions and Agencies," Mr. Kauffman explained. Boundaries, roughly, are Belle Mead, Franklin Park, Hightstown, and Lawrenceville.

The Health Facility Planning agency of Mercer County has authorized the new study of the Hightstown area. Medical emergencies and problems that do not require sophisticated equipment, could be cared for in an outlying unit, Mr. Kauffman suggested.

As an example of the need for such a "satellite," Mr. Kauffman produced figures showing that in 1962, the hospital cared for 123 adult patients from East Windsor. By 1969, the figure had zoomed to 1,185. Development of the new Twin Rivers community will zoom it even higher, he predicted.

Although trustees and physicians have divided the hospital's Master Plan decade into three Phases, some para-Master Plan work has already been done.

About three months ago, for example, the state cited the hospital for violation of the air-pollution code in operation of the incinerator.

"The soot and air-pollution equipment we installed in the power plant met the code of that time," Mr. Kauffman explains, "but not the current code."

The incinerator has been rebuilt, with additional controls (cost: $8,000) and the hospital now has state certification for compliance, Mr. Kauffman said.

● First priority in Phase I is an enlarged Emergency Department, about ten times the size of the present one. It is scheduled for 70-'71 completion.

John W. Kauffman

Plans call for closing the present courtyard in front of Emergency with a one-story wing, containing six examination rooms, sleeping quarters for physicians on duty, an isolation room, family waiting room and police-press rooms.

● By 1975, in Phase II, the hospital hopes to complete a 420-car parking garage along Henry Avenue. It would be pay-parking — perhaps 25c or 50c, perhaps operated by the company building the garage.

Houses on Henry now hospital-owned, would be razed to make room for the garage. Four more Henry Avenue houses are still privately-owned, and Mr. Kauffman said the owners have not yet been approached.

(The house and 150 by 100-foot lot on Henry near the Witherspoon corner, ear-marked for a Community Mental Health Center and surrounded by 11 parking spaces, was purchased by the hospital for $95,000. Mr. Kauffman said the owner approached the hospital with an offer to sell; the hospital did not approach the owner and ask to buy. The hospital had been criticized for buying up housing.)

A community mental health center has been under consideration for ten years, Mr. Kauffman said, and meetings with architects are scheduled for this month. Federal and state money is available, and treatment at the center could be related to the drug problem, Mr. Kauffman suggested.

Three more patient-care floors, by 1975, would bring the preseat "J" building to five stories and 300 beds. The hospital now has 241 beds, plus 93 in "Merwick."

the extended-care unit.

On the Henry-Harris corner, the hospital plans a building with 40 small apartments to house lab. and X-ray technicians, dieticians and so on. The hospital calls these "para-medical personnel."

"We need those apartments," Mr. Kauffman declares, "with housing the way it is in Princeton, we can't hire these essential para-medical people — they go to other communities where they can find a place to live."

● In the final Phase III — by 1980 — the hospital will add the remaining five floors to the patient-care "J" building, bringing it to the final ten-story height and 400 beds.

Because memories fade in seven years, hospital trustees have reminded the new joint Planning Board that the Borough Zoning Board, back in April, 1963, recommended variances to allow hospital expansion. Mr. Kauffman emphasizes that the 1970-80 updated plan complies with the '63 proposals.

"MARAT/SADE"

At Intime. The next major production of the season for the University's undergraduate Theatre Intime will be Peter Weiss' "The Persecution and Assassination of Jean-Paul Marat as Performed by the Inmates of the Asylum of Charenton under the Direction of the Marquis de Sade," known for marquee purposes as "Marat Sade."

The play will be given next Thursday (April 23), Friday and Saturday and April 30, May 1 and 2, all at 8:30. Tickets may now be reserved by calling 452-8181 between 7:30 and 10 p.m.

Larry Strichman, Intime's director, conferred in London with Peter Brook, who directed the Royal Shakespeare Company production that was given in London and New York. Mr. Strichman directed "The Lesson" earlier this year for Intime, and acted in "The Killer" and "Slow Dance on the Killing Ground."

In "Marat/Sade," a group of asylum lunatics in the France of Napoleon's day, is directed by the Marquis de Sade in a drama of the French Revolution. The play centers around the murder of the Revolution leader, Jean-Paul Marat by Charlotte Corday.

Through the frequently tortured role-playing of the lunatics, Weiss comments on modern man and presents his thoughts on revolution and the attempts of man to impose a meaning on his life.

Robert Knapp, member of the English faculty at the University, will play Marat, and de Sade will be Richard Ferrugia. In the play, de Sade assigns the role of Charlotte Corday to an inmate who suffers from sleeping sickness and melancholia. The role will be played by Betty Hager, who has recently been active with Brecht West in New Brunswick.

Duperret, one of the asylum's "brightest sexual maniacs," will be played by Rush Rehm. Peter Breger will make his Intime debut as the herald and Ernest Norris will be Jacques Roux, the soap box orator.

mong the San Francisco film artists whose work will be shown.

The humorous "Viscious Cycles" will be on the program, and so will the surrealistic "Free Form." Some selections are less than one minute (that's Shelby Kennedy's "I Change, I Am the Same") and some are as long as 20 minutes.

BANNED BY CZECHS

Wins Prize Anyway. "A Report on the Party and the Guests" was banned by the Czech government in 1966, but Czech critics, in defiance, awarded it the Critics Prize anyway in 1967. The film was released in 1968 for a brief period during the Dubcek regime and was banned again after the August invasion of that year. It has not been shown since.

CURTAIN THIS FRIDAY: "The Boy Friend," second annual musical staged at Princeton Day School, opens Friday night at 8:30. Additional performances are Sunday afternoon and next Friday, April 24.

It will be shown at McCarter next Tuesday at 8 as part of the International Film Series. On the surface, it is an allegory about totalitarianism, but Jan Nemec has directed it to be an essay on fear in general — fear in insanity, fear in dreams, fear in persecution.

ROCK

With Country Joe. The Princeton Class of 1973 and McCarter have joined to bring Country Joe and the Fish to Alexander Hall this Saturday at 8 p.m.

Founder of one of the earliest San Francisco rock groups, Joe is the composer of "Fixin' for to Die Rag," the controversial pop-rock tune some radio stations have refused to play.

"The Fish" are featured in the film "Woodstock." Instrumentation is a pair of guitars, electric bass drums and electric organ

CAST ANNOUNCED

For "Happy Fella." Steve Kimbrough will play Tony Esposito, the fella himself in the P. J. & B production of Frank Loesser's "The Most Happy Fella."

The annual musical will be given in McCarter on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 7, 8 and 9. Tickets are now on sale for all performances, including the family matinee on Saturday.

Mr. Kimbrough will be remembered as Woody in the 1967 P. J. & B. "Finian's Rainbow." He's an experienced performer on the opera stage, and director Milton Lyon points out that "Most Happy Fella" is almost like an opera, with very little dialogue and a great deal of music — over 30 numbers in all.

Other members of the cast are Carole Peterson who played Marian the Librarian last spring in "The Music Man" and will appear this year as Rosabelle, the mail-order bride Tony brings to his Napa Valley home; Roo Brown, who will be Rosabella's friend and Greg Farrell who will have a chance, as Herman, to sing the show's best-known song, "Standing on the Corner."

The role of the doctor will be played, in a nice bit of type-casting, by Dr. Ashby Adams. He's been in several P.J.&B. musicals before. Eileen Young will be Tony's sister; Bruce Chandlee will be Joey the ranch foreman and other roles will be taken by Don Gustafson, Reid White, Robert Rich, Fred Sheldon, Jake Hamel, Molly Sword and Doug Langston.

formers anywhere around, so who needs notes?

John Sebastian was, of course, the lead singer and writer for "The Lovin' Spoonful." He has written three movie scores, including the new "The Magic Christian" with Ringo Starr and Peter Sellers. He wrote the score, also, for the Broadway production "Jimmy Shine" with Dustin Hoffman.

FINAL BALLET SET

In McCarter Dance Series.

The Princeton Regional Ballet will give the final program in the 1969-70 dance series at McCarter Theater on Sunday, April 26. The program includes two works the company plans to perform at the Northeast Regional Ballet Festival in Toronto during May.

The classical "Concert—Fantasia," is a Tchaikovsky work choreographed for 12 dancers by Lila Popper Brunner. Miss Brunner is ballet mistress for the troupe and an instructor with the Princeton Ballet Society the parent organization.

Sixteen dancers will offer the story-ballet "Urapuru," choreographed from a Brazilian folk legend by Jerry Ross, to a musical score by Villa-Lobos. Mr. Ross is head of the Ballet Society's modern jazz department.

Also on the program at McCarter will be a jazz ballet by Joan Morton Lucas that takes a look at "mod" life, with a score of contemporary rock music. Guest artists Everest Mayora and Ramon Segarra will perform a classical pas de deux. Mr. Mayora is a former leading soloist with the Venezuela Ballet Company, and Mr. Segarra is an internationally - known soloist who also teaches with the Princeton Ballet Society School.

Mr. Segarra has also choreographed a ballet for the Junior company, with solo appearances by 16 members of the troupe.

PLAYHOUSE

The Damned (now playing) No film for the faint at heart, "The Damned" is a cinematic tour de force, repelling and fascinating, on the horrors that made Nazi Germany possible.

There is so much evil, so much perversion, so much shock, so much unadulterated horror crammed into this Gotterdammerung that the viewer is both staggered and repelled. This is director Luchino Visconti's purpose.

GARDEN, TRENT, PRINCE

Anne of the Thousand Days now playing. The film derives from the Maxwell Anderson play that opened in New York late in 1948 with Rex Harrison and Joyce Redman in the leading roles. Some of the changes are obvious: the blank verse and the soliloquies have been discarded. But the main plot line is followed faithfully by screen writers John Hale and Bridget Boland who have developed a literate, witty and dramatically vital screen play.

Director Charles Jarrot has achieved here what Anthony Harvey did with "The Lion in Winter:" he has paced the action and moved the camera so fluidly that any effect of talkiness is avoided.

IT'S NEW To Us

LUTTMANN'S MOVES

To Palmer Square. Sixty-six years ago Frederick W. Luttmann went into the luggage business, buying a small leather business on Nassau Street for $500. Now 88 years old, he sold his firm not long ago to a group that includes John Goodman, who had been with him since 1951.

Luttmann's Luggage Shop moved in February from its lifetime location at 132 Nassau to Palmer Square, next to the Playhouse. Mr. Luttmann still comes in around at midday and sits in a chair there to watch the world go by. He's come a long way from the 21-year-old Cranbury boy who borrowed $500 from a Civil War veteran to buy the shop.

And fashions in luggage have changed immensely. Only a few people, lovers of fine leather buy the heavy leather suitcases. Today its vinyl attractively designed and tough. Some stick to the famous canvas cases with the leather corners — still a good seller at Luttmann's.

In the attractive new shop on Palmer Square, John Goodman, president of the new ownership, says that "luggage today is brighter, and the makers of ladies' luggage are more fashion-conscious."

The most popular items for women are the 24" and 26" pullmans. For men, the two-suiter — and the carry-on cases. "There isn't a day that goes by that we don't sell two or three of them," Mr. Goodman notes. The carry-ons are equipped with external zip pockets for a miscellaney of items, and the whole thing can be carried into the plane with you.

Luttmann's Luggage has, among others, a carry-on in Skai vinyl with a leather-look backed with heavy cloth) in brown, or in olive. The 21" size is $25. Atlantic Products makes an attractive carry-on in British tan, edged in black. You'll find six different brands.

Luggage has combination locks these days. The Ventura cases in light-colored vinyl all have these locks. The Ventura line has an attractive striping just below the lid — although some are plain, if you prefer. Inside is a moire-look lining in soft green. The 21" case is $47.50. The Ventura cases come in matching his-and-her sets, and the color choice is very wide.

Women come into Luttmann's for tote bags, Mr. Goodmann comments. "We sell a lot of them." These have locks, too — And, you'll see the famous "grasshoppers" — made for long or short hops, as the slogan goes — covered in the green McLeod tartan. These are inexpensive and very light.

Nearby is a new set of cases made by Cowan of Philadelphia, featuring an unusual woven fabric in a tweed of white, olive, brown and rust. The fabric is hard-wearing "Vectra", an olefin fibre. The cases are extremely attractive, trimmed in leather with a wide leather strap circling the center. All sizes.

Luttmann's also has the fine Fulton luggage, which features aluminum frames and excellent fabric. It's "Solight" is a best seller.

"Princeton people have been buying these for 35 years," Mr. Goodman says. "They last and last, unless a truck runs over them." The case he brought out was of a fine duck canvas in navy blue, trimmed with dark red. There's also a dark brown case, covered with a heavy homespun-look canvas. "You can't tear them for love or money."

Another Fulton case is covered with pure flax over a very strong frame. All of the covers on today's luggage are so durable as well as attractive, that it is hard to choose.

"When I first went into the luggage business in 1947," Mr. Goodman reminisced, pulling out a cream canvas-with-stripes suitcase, "the finest luggage was made by Oshkosh, and this was called 'The Chief'. They went out of business, and Lark bought the pattern, and here it is today — a beautiful, hard-wearing set of luggage. The Chief pattern goes back close to 30 years. I'd say that Lark and Fulton are the two top luggage lines in the country."

"IT SMELLS SO GREAT You'd Like to Eat It!" Women's eternal fascination with cosmetics reaches a point of fruition at Thorne's Pharmacy, 168 Nassau Street, where Dorothy Fretz maintains a philosophy. "There's so much we can do, we women, one for the other."

The store is the exclusive outlet in Princeton for a number of fine products: Yves Saint Laurent, Dior, Weil, Nina Ricci, Frances Denny, Monteil, Carven, as well as other well-known names in the cosmetic business.

Germaine Monteil's new Acti-vita cream is available. "Wheat germ oil is the new ingredient," Mrs. Fretz says in her very knowledgeable way. "It's a night cream, peach in color, and it smells so great you'd like to eat it!"

The Acti-vita may be bought separately or in a set called "Complexion Classics." This is an attractively packaged complexion-care kit, designed to fit easily into your suitcase. Inside, as Mrs. Fretz describes it, "there's a tremendous cleansing cream — light and fluffy— a dry skin freshner that cuts grease and is totally non-drying — a new "super-moist cream" for under make-up, and the new Acti-vita cream for night." ($15.)

Also new is an Austrian product. Piz Buin, which is pronounced "pete's bween" and is a suntan preparation that's keyed to skin type. The Piz Buin liquid cream is for normal skin, providing both sunburn protection and a deep tan. The Piz Buin oil is for the dry skin types — and Mrs. Fretz says most women over 35 have this problem. It has the feel and sheen of an oil, but sand doesn't stick to it.

And there's the Piz Buin lotion with an alcohol base — making it great for people with oily skins, teenagers mostly. All are excellent for protection against burning from the sun and all have a light,fresh fragrance.

The original moisturizing cream was developed some 30 years ago by Jacqueline Cochrane. Called "Flowing Velvet," Mrs. Fretz notes "Everything else is a take-off on this." The counter has a pencilled notice, "More Flowing Velvet coming in," so you have an idea how faithful women are to a product that works for them. The new Flowing Velvet travel tube is a handy thing to have. ($2.50)

"In the hair business," Mrs. Fretz says convincingly, "Pantene doesn't have a second at all." This group of preparations for men and for women is based on a Swiss formulation. At the moment, you can buy the Pantene hair spray for $3 with the $2.50-size treatment cream added in as a free introduction.

The Pantene shampoo comes with a conditioner in it, as do the hair spray and the setting lotion. There's also a 60-second hair conditioner loaded with things that strengthen and restore damaged hair, bringing back body and sheen.

"Pantene is expensive," Mrs. Fretz admits, "but we couldn't sell it at these prices unless it was really and truly excellent."

Browsing around the cosmetics counter, you'll find Helena Rubenstein's new automatic eyeliner. There's a brush and liquid liner all in one to give a velvety smooth line. ($5; refill $2.50)

"It's not messy," Mrs. Fretz will tell you. "And if you use several colors, buy one, plus a refill in another shade."

There's also a new treatment for facial hair. "I don't suggest that everybody remove it," Mrs. Fretz says, picking up a box of "Blondit." This is a cream bleach with no ammonia odor. You mix together cream and powder for quick action.

Thorne Pharmacy's major cosmetic business is in the skin treatment items, Mrs. Fretz told us, cleansing creams, freshners, moisturizers for days and creams for night. "Most of our business is for dry skin," she added. "The women who were bothered by oily skins when they were young get down on their knees and thank God when they're middle-aged because they don't have the dry skin problem."

What's best? "It depends on the individual. We try different things and they make up their minds."

For teens these days, "the look is sheer, transparent, natural. They buy astringents if their skin is oily, and medicated cleansers. The girls are big on eye make-up. They all wear it very well. And both boys and girls are fantastic on shampoos and cream rinses. Some wash their hair every other night.

"And the girls love fragrances — generally the fresh, light, 'woodsy' scents."

The biggest seller among the eyelash products is the "demi" bought by young and old. The girls also like the shaggy, spiky sunburst for evening wear. Their mothers are buying the demis and natural (full lash). Included in the new Helena Rubenstein package is a slick, easy-to-operate applicator —and underlashes, too.

"WEDNESDAYS"

Program Evaluated. Three New Jersey educators sent to Princeton by the state to evaluate the Wednesday Program because of its use of Title III Federal funds, found the Wednesday activities generally satisfactory.

The evaluators spent three days (two of them Wednesdays) in the schools observing, interviewing and examining materials.

Major strengths of the Wednesday Program: willingness of the Board of Education and the administration, to allow the staff to work out the direction of the Program; the chance for teachers to follow various ideas of individual and group interest and to enhance their professionalism; improved communication among professional staff members; released time during the school day.

The team recommended more involvement by townspeople and non professional staff — secretarial, custodial staff, etc. — and better procedures of accountability.

The full two-part report may be examined in the Office of Staff Development, John Witherspoon school. Team members were Robert Gerardi, superintendent of the Southern Gloucester County Regional District; John Halpin, psychologist for the Greater Egg Harbor Regional School District and Sherwood Wilson, assistant director of the Educational Improvement Center, Glassboro.

SMALL CAR TOTALED

When It Flips Over. A small car was demolished Monday evening when it went out of control on Mount Lucas Road and flipped over twice, coming to rest on its roof.

Aside from a small head contusion, the driver, Dana C. Brower, 18, 628 Ewing Street, escaped injury. He told police that his wheels went into the gravel shoulder near Poor Farm Road, causing him to lose control. The car swerved into the opposite lane, turned over and struck a small tree.

Ptl. Michael Kopliner made no charges.

Sixteen-year-old James A. MacAfee of Ridgeview Circle was struck by a car Thursday afternoon at 5 while he was riding a bicycle on Ridgeview Road near his home.

Young MacAfee later told police that the driver stopped, got out of his car and asked him if he was all right. At the time he seemed fine. He got back on his bike and rode home. The driver continued on. Later he requested medical attention for abrasions of the forehead, elbow and thumb.

Township police request that the driver of the tan car involved in the accident come to Township headquarters. No charges will be made, they said.

Truck, Station Wagon Collide. A truck and a station wagon collided at the intersection of Valley Road and Witherspoon Street last Wednesday afternoon.

J. A. Stott, 69, 47 Laurel Road, Kingston, driving east on valley between Route 206 and Witherspoon, told police he did not see the stop sign. He was ticketed by Pfl. David Cromwell after being treated at Princeton Hospital for lacerations of the scalp and wrist.

The second driver, Philip M. Hull, 36, 165 John Street, was treated at the hospital for contusions of the shoulder.

WINDOW FOUND BROKEN

At YMCA Building. A 30 by 54-inch window on the north side of the YMCA was found broken Sunday morning by superintendent Rudolph Tessein.

Police said there were no signs of forced entries inside the building and they were unable to determine whether the broken window was just vandalism or the start of an attempted entry. No object that might have broken the window was found inside, police said.

TRENTON MAN CHARGED

With Narcotic Possession. A Trenton man has been charged with possession of narcotics by the Borough police.

Thomas D. Richardson, 23, was arrested at 4:12 Monday afternoon on Witherspoon Street near Hulfish by Lt. Michael Carnevale, armed with a search warrant, Detective Robert McAvena and Pfl. Timothy Huizing. Police report that they found a large quantity of a narcotic in his possession which they believe to be bags of heroin.

He was committed to Mercer County Jail in default of $5,000 bail set by Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr. Chief Peter J. McGrohan said that the suspect had been under surveillance for about a month.

Just before his arrest, Richardson and a female companion had visited the Youth Center on Witherspoon and Green Streets, police said.

MAN IS JAILED

For Used Car Theft. "Take it for a test drive" is a favorite phrase of the used car salesman.

Loomis Spruill, 24 of Little Rocky Hill did just that last week. Only he went one better: he didn't bring the car back.

Spruill is presently in Borough Jail under $250 bail, charged with larceny. He was picked up Monday by South Brunswick police, acting on an alarm sent out by the Borough.

According to police, Spruill went to Turney Motors, 255 Nassau Street around 3 Thursday afternoon, looked at a 1964 convertible and took it for a test drive. When he failed to return the next day, manager Martin Reef notified the police.

Borough police report that Spruill is also wanted by the South Brunswick police for passing bad checks and by the Lawrence Township for contempt of court. The Borough, however, will try him first.

TOWNSHIP HOMES ENTERED

TV Sets Taken. "Somebody's in the market for TV sets," mused Detective Samuel Bianco of the Township police after three were stolen last week from two Township homes.

Two television sets, a tape recorder, stereo set, two radios and two cameras were stolen between 11:20 a.m. and 1:09 p.m. from the home of C. Maury Jones on Heather Lane. A door leading to the kitchen had been forced to gain entry, police said.

Pfl. Howard Sweeney responded to the call by Mrs. Jones, who discovered the theft when she returned home.

A color TV set and a table radio valued at $530 were taken Thursday from the home of Alfred T. Test, Stony Brook Lane.

Drawers in a bedroom were only lightly ransacked, police

Part of Nassau Street to Be Closed Sunday

Nassau Street from Chambers to Witherspoon will be closed from 2:30 to 5:30 this Sunday as part of Earth Recovery Day celebrations.

The student committee at Princeton University planning the Environmental Teach-In requested the closing. Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley and Council were happy to go along, and the state gave its blessing. Nassau Street is State Highway Number 27.

The Chambers-Witherspoon segment was chosen because it means the least disruption of traffic. Only one bus-stop, Palmer Square, is in the strip.

Students will gather at noon before Nassau Hall, then disperse in squads to collect refuse which they will take to the Princeton railroad station around 1 p.m. A Borough truck will haul it all away.

The three hour closing of Nassau, Mayor Cawley explained, is designed to show the difference between Nassau with the pollution of noise and exhaust and Nassau unpolluted.

Pedestrians, owning the street for a change, can wander freely, exploring various booths with ecological displays and "even roller-skating," the mayor added.

"Seriously this is a serious subject and the closing of Nassau is symbolic," the mayor continued, "all of us have been caught up in the enthusiasm of these students. It's great to find students involved in a constructive project like this — and they've done a tremendous job of planning."

"Maybe," the mayor added as an afterthought, "this will encourage people to support our new regional sewage project. I plan to be on Nassau Street Sunday and I hope all citizens will come, too."

said. Like the Jones robbery, this one also took place in day light — between 10:15 and 11:30 in the morning — and other valuables such as jewelry were left untouched. "They were apparently looking for money," police said.

Township police also report that $3 in cash and two bank books were stolen last week from the home of Richard M. Gullette 169 Jefferson Road.

The money and bank books belonged to the Gullette's daughter, police said. There were no signs of forced entry.

TO JOIN EARTH DAY

Historical Society Sets Plans. The Historical Society of Princeton will join the community in its observance of "Earth Day" Wednesday, April 22, with a special open house at its Bainbridge House headquarters.

Based on the belief that "historic preservation is a part of the total environment," the society's program will have the current exhibit of the "finds" from the excavation of the 18th century tavern The Hudibras, open to the public.

The house will be manned by group of students, headed by Pixie Spitzer from Princeton High School, and Middle School, who participated in the dig last spring. Other guides on will be Rick Glas, Nancy Quick, Dominic Nogare and Frank Silverstein. The exhibit is the result of a winter's work of sorting, restoring and cataloguing the thousands of fragments of 18th and 19th century artifacts discovered at the site

Also included in the day's activities will be a thorough clean up of the Bainbridge House yard, walks and environs of the property. Members and the public are invited to join. With the first phase of the Society's program of restoration of the house well under way, it is assured that there will be enough trash for all

SEVEN SPEEDERS FINED

In Borough Court. Seven Princeton area residents were fined for speeding Monday by Borough Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr. in Borough Court

They are Harvey R Wilson, 67, 338 Great Road, $30, Charles V Lantay, 27, 525 Major Road, and Michael S Gilchrist 27, 60 Penn Lyle Road, Princeton Junction, both $25, Daniel J Bloch, 44, 60 Jefferson Road, Rex Goreleigh, 67, Canal Road, and Andrew Crill, 45, Belle Mead, all $16; and Julia Mardiner, 29, Research Park, $15.

Geoffrey Graham 18, 54 MacLean Circle, paid $10 for no registration in possession

REGISTRATION TO END

For June 2 Primaries. The League of Women Voters this week reminded Princeton area residents that Thursday, April 23, is their last opportunity to register or change voting address before the primary elections June 2

Anyone who has not voted in four years, or has moved from another county or changed his name through marriage, divorce or court decree may need to register again. Registration must be done in person at the county Board of Elections or at the local municipal clerk's office during regular office hours.

Further information and advice is available at the clerks' offices or from the League of Women Voters, at 924-6553.

MAIL APPEAL UNDERWAY

By NAACP. There will be no direct area appeal by the Princeton committee of the NAACP Special Contribution Fund this spring, the chairman said this week. Instead, those people who contributed to the spring drives of 1968 and 1969 will be contacted by mail this year, direct from the NAACP's New York headquarters.

The Princeton Committee was formed in the spring of 1968 by the late Mrs. Bertha Brandon, as a tribute to Martin Luther King, Jr. Mrs. Brandon served as co-chairman of the group until her death in April of last year, and the present chairman is Mrs. W. Bruce Armstrong.

DISCUSSING PLANS for the April Annual at the New Jersey Neuro-Psychiatric Institute, Tuesday, April 28, are Mrs. Bertram Bonner and Mrs. M. F. Healy, Jr., co-chairmen. The Bonners' police dog, Terry, seems to feel he should have a part in the discussion too.

FASHIONS ARE FEATURE

For Upcoming Bazaar. Roxane, designer for Samuel Winston, will give the fashion show this year at the annual April Bazaar at the New Jersey Neuro-Psychiatric Institute. Evening clothes, country clothes, cottons for everyday and chiffons for weddings will be part of the featured show. Paluma suits for evenings only will also be part of her new Boutique, designed for the 20 to 35-year-olds.

A former Princeton resident from 1949 to 1957 with her husband David Kamenstein and three sons, Roxane was a buyer for specialty stores, traveling abroad frequently. She started designing in 1952 part-time for Samuel Winston, and was successful enough to make it a full-time vocation.

This year's April Annual will be Tuesday, April 28, from 10 to 3, on the grounds of the Neuro-Psychiatric Institute. Tickets can be purchased from Mrs. R. J. Woodrow, Rosedale Road. The tickets cost $5 each and include the Bazaar, fashion show and lunch, and a talk by Dr. Freymuth, head of the Institute's drug addiction unit. Because of the limited space of Smalley Hall, tickets should be ordered early.

Spring Act II, a collection of slightly used fashions will be shown as well. There will also be the usual popular standbys: a bake table, casserole table, cookies and homemade bread will be offered for sale. The Gallery will present art from old and new artists of the area, while the garden mart and white elephant table will also offer a wide selection.

WORTHINGTON HONORED

As NACS Manager of the Year. F. J. "Jack" Worthington, general manager of the Princeton University Store, has been honored as the 13th National Association of College Stores (NACS) manager of the year.

The NACS award was presented to him at the kick-off dinner session of the 47th annual meeting in the Conrad Hilton at Chicago. Mr. Worthington has long played a prominent role in Association affairs. Elected an NACS trustee in 1951, he served three years in that capacity and added three more years, one each as vice-president, president and immediate past president.

A native of Douglas, Arizona, Mr. Worthington studied at the Universities of Texas, Colorado and at New York University. He PHS Wednesdays Unsupervised.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I am quite disturbed by the fact that on Wednesday afternoon, April 8, about 50 Princeton High School students reportedly demonstrated along with about 50 University SDS students at the ROTC Armory.

Student participation in this kind of riotous activity does not seem to me to be a very positive addition to the education of high school students.

It leads me to question the wisdom of a Wednesday Afternoon Program that permits hundreds of Princeton school children to roam the town without adult guidance. This incident confirms my doubts about Wednesday programs which do not provide supervised activities for the children.

Support Blood Donor Week.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

This is Blood Donor Week in the Princeton Community. The Princeton High School students who are conducting a door to door canvass to sign up new donors deserve our thanks and our cooperation with their efforts. Let us hope they receive a cordial welcome at every door and that their work will be highly successful.

It is hard to believe the figure we are given, that only approximately three per cent of the qualified donors in the country actually give blood. If one realizes how essential blood is to so many patients and how many lives are saved by its use, and if one understands how quick, easy, and painless it is to donate a pint of blood, how can any healthy individual refuse?

I hope that the Princeton Community responds enthusiastically to make our percentage of participation far above that national average. Let's back up our high school students and support the Blood Donor Program, the Red Cross, and the Princeton Hospital who are all cooperating to operate an excellent program for the benefit and protection of each and every one of us.

ROBERT V. C. WHITEHEAD, JR
16 Edgehill Street

(Mr. Whitehead is the third donor enrolled in the Princeton Blood Donor Service and actually donated on the first day of the program's operation — December 7, 1949 —)

Kingston Needs Stop Light.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

We have lived on Laurel Avenue, Kingston for the past 15 years. Unfortunately we have fought for a traffic light on the corner of Laurel Avenue and Route 27 (Main Street) for a long time, and have been given various reasons from officials as to why we cannot get one.

They say that: Not enough traffic (the count must be taken at 4:00 a.m.) (b) Not enough fatalities this year was given to me personally, by a Franklin Township Committeeman).

Kingston is a peaceful little town on the border of two counties, Middlesex and Somerset, and is forgotten by both of them. It does not have a large population, but has a gigantic problem with "through" traffic on every working day of the week. I defy anyone to stand at that corner at 8:30 A.M. or 5:00 P.M. and deny the need for a traffic light.

Perhaps one serious accident at this level on Tuesday, April 7 at 5:00 P.M. will again open the issue. Is it possible the "powers-that-be" do not want to slow up the Kingston Trap Rock trucks, which somehow conceivably must contribute more to the Township, in the area of property tax, than I or any of my neighbors.

Excuse me, young lady, but that fella out there singing and prancing among my tulips — is he with you? That's Tiny who? Oh yes, I can see now. Whew! No I'll be alright. It's just that I haven't had breakfast yet. Well, you must be Miss Vicki. Tell me, if you're his wife, why does he call you Miss Vicki, Oh! Sorry about that. Say, you've put on a little weight, haven't you? Oh, you are. How could that happen? No, I say I'm happy for you. I mumble a lot.

You say Tiny heard about us selling a dozen tulips for $1.00 and he just couldn't believe it. You spent How much on your wedding flowers? Mercy! He would like forty dozen pink tulips and forty dozen lavender tulips. They're his favorite colors I bet. You know I could have almost told you that.

Do you suppose you could get him to stop singing now. Hopewell has a barking dog problem, you see, and when those dogs get aroused like this they will bark right on through the night. By day I am Hopewell's friendly Ol' Florist, but I moonlight at night as Hopewell's friendly Ol' Decorateher. Well stop at the shop either Thursday, Friday or Saturday. We will save those tulips for you and by the way, we will have several other different weekend specials for $1.00 to choose from. So you can load up. See you later in the week then.

Oh stop that barking you stupid dogs Boy will I get phone calls tonight.

SCHOOL BOARD TO MEET

In West Windsor. The Board of Education of the West Windsor-Plainsboro Regional School District will hold a special meeting Thursday at 8 in the library of Maurice Hawk School to review and approve preliminary floor plans and preliminary cost estimates of the proposed secondery school, for submission to the state education department.

The plans are generalized area assignments indicating the location and size of particular rooms, according to the district's specifications. Should these be approved by the state departments of education and local finance, the next step will be development of schematic plans and cost estimates for a district referendum.

During the period that the plans are awaiting state approval, students, staff and citizen advisory committees will continue to meet to develop specific plans for the variously assigned areas.

VOICES TO VIETNAM

Messages To Be Taped. Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4, residents of the greater Princeton area will have the opportunity to record messages to be broadcast to relatives or friends in Vietnam. The Stereo Center, in Montgomery Shopping Center, is co-sponsoring a recording session at the center on Route 206 in Princeton, with technical assistance from radio station WPRB.

An announcer and engineer from the station will be present to assist people in recording personal messages. No fee will be charged, and tapes are being provided by the Stereo Center. All messages will be sent to the Armed Forces Radio Network, which will broadcast them in Vietnam.

ART FESTIVAL PLANNED

By Princeton Day School. Princeton Day School will present its Spring Arts Festival and open house Sunday afternoon, April 26. Visitors will have a chance to see students at work from 1 to 4, and there will be two concerts by the band, at 1:30 and 2:30.

A performance by the PDS Glee Club, Madrigals and Orchestra will close the festival at 4, in the PDS theatre, under the direction of Miss Carol Lewis and Frank Jacobus. The public is invited to attend.

Examples of student work in all areas will be on display, and in the art studios students will be painting, sculpting, welding, making films, working on stitchery, hooking, block printing, potting and making jewelry.

Students in the Industrial arts room will be drafting, building models of individually-designed houses, and designing a Quaker meeting as an architectural project. Boys and girls in the wood working shop will be making boards, jewelry boxes, lamps, trays and candlesticks.

Faculty members guiding the students will be Miss Arlene Smith, Mrs. Eileen Holsmith, Miss Jean Duff, Robert Whitlock, and Andrew Franz.

RANGERS SET CARNIVAL

To Raise Camping Money. Saturday, April 28, has been set as the date of the Ranger Club carnival, the annual fund-raising effort of the young YMCA Ranger outdoorsmen.

It will be a family affair both for visitors and for Ranger families involved in preparing the program. Fathers and sons are responsible for building and running booths for many of the Carnival games. Mothers will bake cakes, pies and cookies, and sell plants and refreshments. Brothers and sisters will participate as clowns and all-around helpers.

The Rangers need funds for their summer camp in Canada and for their extended camping program. Trips to their own Tumagami Lodge, to Nova Scotia, to Colorado, and to the Pine Barrens are planned this year.

The Carnival chairman is John Vehlewald, and the committee under him will be meeting soon to coordinate the work of 73 Ranger boys. Members of the committee are John Grassdkamp prize chairman; C. W. Henderson, refreshment chairman; William Baggitt, treasurer and ticket chairman; Harold Gilliland booths and games chairman, Edward Doblowski, construction chairman; Mrs. Stuart Wilson, bake sale chairman; John Melone, clowns and supervision chairman; Mrs. Louis Vergot, plant and sale chairman; and Richard Hoisington, rides chairman.

ECOLOGY FILMS PLANNED

For Free Showings. As part of environmental quality week in Montgomery Township, the Stereo Center is sponsoring continuous showings of several ecology films next door to its location in Montgomery Shopping Center. The showings, all free, will be on April 22, 24 and 25, from 12 to 3 and from 6 to 9.

The award-winning film, "It's Your Decision — Clean Water," will be shown, along with the popular "Tom Lehrer Sings Pollution." "The River Must Live," "Family Planning," and "Mud."

The latter contains a segment on the Stonybrook-Millstone watershed, showing a series of eight lakes that were built to catch sediment and help save Lake Carnegie.

The project has been organized by Mrs. Robert Hoedemaker. Contributing organizations who are supplying film, space and equipment include The Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Association, Planned Parenthood of the Mercer area, the Philadelphia Department of Public Health, the Soap and Detergent Association, the Federal Water Pollution Control Agency, the League of Women Voters, Hillos Realty, the First National Bank of Central New Jersey and the Stereo Center.

TOWNSHIP OF PRINCETON

The 1970 Spring Clean-Up Week in Princeton Township will take place April 20 through April 24, 1970.

Princeton residents are urged to take the time to eliminate the threat of fire and the menace of rodents and mosquitos by the removal of rubbish and debris from yards, cellars, attics and vacant lots. The participation of every householder in this betterment program will prevent blight and deterioration.

Material should be placed in containers at the curb early in the week so it will be available for pick up when the trucks are in your area. Brush that is tied into bundles at the curb will also be collected. Large branches removed from trees must be cut and tied into bundles. Only that material which one man can lift will be collected.

Residents should call the Township Engineering Department for additional information or advice. The telephone number is 921-7077.

Chamber Orchestra's Concert Saturday May Be Its Last

The Princeton Chamber Orchestra, under the direction of Nicholas Harsanyi, presented its last concert of the season at the John Witherspoon School auditorium Saturday night. Walter Trampler the renowned violist, was the guest artist of the evening and his talents were displayed in the Concerto for Viola d'Amore by Vivaldi and the Music of Mourning by Paul Hindemith.

Helen Kwalwasser, the orchestra's concert mistress and violin soloist, was heard with Nelita True at the piano in the Chausson Concerto in D Major, Op. 21 Rounding out the program, Mr. Harsanyi conducted the "Concerto Grosso", On. 7, No. 6 by Locatelli and the "Sinfonietta" for String Orchestra by Albert Roussel.

Rumors persist that this may be the last season of the Princeton Chamber Orchestra. If so, its departure will be a great loss to this area. While it plays to sell-out audiences all over the country, the Princeton community has apparently failed to respond in kind to an orchestra bearing its name With the intimely death of David Blair, one of the orchestra's main guarantors, no one in the Princeton area has apparently come forth to help fill this void financially.

If Saturday's program is as good an indicator as any of the past which this reviewer has heard, the loss would be tragic. The strings were gloriously warm and ebullient. The precision of the ensemble was as usual, first rate.

. . . And The Future?

"I hope there is a future for the Princeton Chamber Orchestra — there is a definite need for a chamber orchestra of this size," said Gordon Andrews, general manager of the Princeton Chamber Orchestra, in comment this week on rumors that the orchestra may have to be disbanded.

Mr. Andrews pointed out that any action would have to be taken by the Board of Trustees. He said he hoped for a definitive announcement "within 30 days."

Nicholas Harsanyi, director of the orchestra, is moving to Michigan, where he is musical director of the Interlachen music school for young musicians.

Through the years Maestro Harsanyi has welded his string orchestra into a solid unit whose total sound is second to none in the country. In addition to all this, the orchestra, its conductor, and its few financial supporters have encouraged the commissioning of new works by New Jersey composers, something most ensembles of this calibre shy away from continually.

Strong, Vibrant Tone. Sitting first in the center of the hall, and later in the very last row, after intermission, this listener was amazed at the strong vibrant tonal power of the Princeton strings. It was difficult to realize that one was hearing a complement of merely 16 players.

Walter Trampler performed on the seldom heard viola d'amore the Vivaldi Concerto, one of eight the Baroque master composed for this instrument, with a brillance unmatched in my memory. This beautiful relic from a bygone era has a poignant sound, yet played with the quality of Mr. Trampler's artistry, it remains a vibrant "living" instrument.

Returning after the intermission to perform Hindemith's "Music for Mourning," Mr. Trampler delivered one of the most potent and compelling interpretations of one of the late German master's more inspired creations. The "Trauermusik" was composed in one day, in memoriam for King George V of Great Britain in 1936, and remains a major composition in Hindemith's catalogue of works.

Chaussop's "Concert" in D Major for Violin, Piano and Strings was originally conceived as chamber music, (i.e., for the two aforementioned solo instruments but with string quartet instead of the string orchestra heard Saturday night.) The addition of a larger body of strings enhances the work considerably, bringing out the nobility of the sweeping lines in a score that is frankly over-romantic at times and considerably chromatic in the vein of Cesar Franck.

An Inspired Performer. Let us hope that this will not be the last time we are to hear Helen Kwalwasser's magnificent tone and vigorous interpretations in the Princeton area, for there can be no question about her role in helping to make the Princeton Chamber Orchestra so important and essential a musical organization. Both as concertmaster of the orchestra and as soloist, Miss Kwalwasser has continually demonstrated that she is one of the most solid and inspired performers the Princeton community has heard during these past seven years of the orchestra's existance.

Once again (with her performance of the Chausson Concerto), Miss Kwalwasser performed brilliantly. Her tone was rich, her phrasing and bowing resplendent with the character of confidence and musicality. In short, Helen Kwalwasser as a violinist and musician, is a complete professional—one whose great talents should not be underestimated.

A great musical ensemble cannot triumph without the discipline of strong leadership. Nicholas Harsanyi's direction and interpretive effort through the years have given to the Princeton community some remarkable musical events. Haydn and Mozart will not be the same without his presence on the podium, nor for that matter will Bartok or Britten. His interpretations of these four composers were second to none, not to mention his interests in promoting the music of promising composers (John Harbison was the most recently performed by Maestro Harsanyi and the orchestra).

And if an era of musical achievement is coming to an end in Princeton, we who were present during its flowering, can only reflect on the past and look forward to a future that is uncertain.

FINAL CONCERT PLANNED

Music from Marlboro Here. The Department of Music Chamber Concerts will present its last concert of the current season on Wednesday, April 22. It will be "Music from Marlboro," in 10 McCosh Hall, at 8:30 p.m.

The program includes the seldom-heard Dvorak "Trio in E Minor, Opus 90" ("Dumky"), Leon Kirchner's "Sonata Concertante", and Brahms "Piano Quarter in G Minor, Opus 25." All three works have received the intensive preparation of a summer at Marlboro.

The artists (Ruth Laredo, piano, Jaime Laredo, violin, Raphael Hillyer, viola and Robert Sylvester, violoncello), each of whom is a noted soloist, are taking time from their individual concert activities to join forces for a three-week tour which will bring to 13 different cities a sampliog of Marlboro's distinctive music-making.

Tickets to this concert are available at the Concert Office, Woolworth Center 924-0453 weekday mornings and at the door the evening of the concert.

JOINT RECITAL FRIDAY

Sponsored by Friends of Music. Jayn Seigel, Flutist and Cheryl Seltzer, Pianist will give a joint recital Friday, in Woolworth Center, at 8:30 p.m. The concert is under the auspices of The Friends of Music at Princeton in their regular "Friday Night Chamber Music" series.

Jayn Rosenfeld Seigel has a Master's Degree from the Manhattan School of Music. For three years she was principal flutist with the American Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Leopold Stokawski, and is currently solo flutist with the Master Virtuosi of New York.

Cheryl Seltzer attended Mills College in California and in 1957 made her debut with the San Francisco Symphony. After graduating, she came east and subsequently studied with Leon Fleisher, Leonard Shure, and Ernst Oster.

She is now co-director of the Performers Committee for Twentieth Century Music, a group which presents retrospective concerts of major contemporary composers, and is a candidate for a graduate degree in musicology at Columbia University. Their program in Princeton will be Sonatine by Milhaud, Concert Royal by Couperin, "Four Scenes for Piano" by Lawrence Moss, "Piece in Two Parts for Flute and Piano" by Stefan Wolpe, "Synchronisms No. 1" by Mario Davidovsky and "Sonata No. 1 in B Minor" by J. S. Bach.

The concert is open to the public, admission free.

Pianists Better Than Programming

The duo piano team of Rollino and Sheftel were heard at McCarter Monday evening in the final Series I concert of this season. Their program included the "Fantasia for Musical Clock" in F Minor by Mozart (in a transcription by Busoni); the "Fantasia Contrapuntistica" by Busoni; the "Six Epigraphes Antiques" by Debussy and the Sonata In D Major, K. 448 by Mozart.

It is not often that an opportunity occurs to hear a concert of music for piano—four hands, or for two pianos. There is not a great deal of music written for this medium, yet what has been composed in this genre are among the finest masterpieces of their kind.

One has only to consider much of Ravel's output, the Concerto for Two Solo Pianos by Stravinsky and Bartok's brilliant Sonata for Two Pianos and Percussion, 20th Century staples of the art, as well as the tender and lovely "Six Epigraphes Antiques" of Debussy to appreciate the valuable catalogue of works that have been inspired by this medium. With the exception of the Debussy work, then, it must be stated that the concert offerings heard on Monday night were something of a disappointment.

Not the playing, however! Messrs. Rollino and Sheftel are among the finest two piano performers currently active on the concert scene. Their interpretations were crisp, clean and always musical.

The Mozart Fantasia is simply not top drawer Mozart to begin with, and Busoni's arrangement of the work for two pianos, though skillfully handled, added little to the music.

The Busoni creation that followed was another matter. The McCarter audience owes much thanks to Mr. Sheftel's unprecedented but informative remarks about the structure of Busoni's 30 minute Fantasa.

This was most helpful in following the music and the playing by both performers was especially sensitive to Busoni's creative efforts. One can only admire the musician who makes the effort to resurrect works that have been passed over, by the changing tastes of different cultures, for it affords concert-goers of a later era an opportunity to better the musical styles that preceded the music of their contemporary culture.

A Search Unrewarded. Busoni was an extraordinary talent; a superb pianist, an exemplary transcriber and arranger of Bach's music, but as a composer, he was a craftsman in search of a new style, a style he never truly attained. There are occasional glimpses of genius in this long, sprawling score, but somehow the music, with all its color and contra puntal textures, never seems to go anywhere or say anything of substance.

The fugues are well managed but Bach's originals are better, perhaps because they were originals, and Busoni's occasional chromatic harmonic colorings against the Bachian subject matter never really establishes the freshness of idiom that the composer hoped to achieve. Then there is the rhetorical bombast in numerous bravura passages that meander between a chromaticism and modalism that preoccupied many composers at the turn of the century. Max Reger comes to mind here.

The music ends rather abruptly in D Minor without any real aural sense of rightness. Despite Mr. Sheftel's excellent guidelines for listening, the music's weaknesses only become more apparent.

Nevertheless, the magnificence of Rollino and Sheftel's interpretation and their dedication to the performance of Busoni should not be overlooked. It obviously took weeks and countless hours in the studio to bring this music to the concert stage. For this, one can only respect and admire the integrity and sincerity of these two fine artists.

MILBANK CONCERT SET

University Choir to Sing. The 39th annual Milbank Memorial Concert will be presented in the Princeton University Chapel on Sunday, at 3:30 p.m.

The Princeton University Choir, under the direction of Carl Weinrich, will sing the Shutz oratorio "The Seven Words of Christ on the Cross," and the Mass in B flat (Heiligmesse) of Haydn.

The Choir will be assisted by a chamber orchestra and the following soloists: Shirley Emmons and Karla Johnson, sopranos; Emily Klenin, Linn Jackson, and Marija Keva, altos; Michael Carrigan, Todd Fansler, and William McGrath, tenors; Philip Kitcher and Stephen Kimbrough, basses; Janet Quinn, organ.

These concerts are sponsored each spring by the Milbank Foundation as a memorial to Albert Goodsell Milbank and Elizabeth Milbank Anderson, and are open to the public.

CONCERT SATURDAY

By Westminster Choir. The Westminster Choir of Westminster Choir College, will present its annual post-tour Homecoming Concert Saturday, April 18, at 8:30 p.m. in the auditorium of John Witherspoon School.

This event officially marks the return of the choir from its 8-day tour in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. The Westminster Choir in the past has toured around the world and through the United States and Canada, but this was its first tour of Puerto Rico. The tour was from March 11 to March 19 and included concerts and choral demonstrations throughout the Island.

One of the early stops was the Conservatory of Music of Puerto Rico in San Juan; also in that city, the Choir spent several hours taping music at WIPR an educational T.V. station with Island-wide broadcasting.

STUDENT RECITAL SET

By Friends of Music. The Friends of Music at Princeton will present a student recital Saturday at 3:30 in Woolworth Center on the University campus. The free concert will feature undergraduate and graduate students of Princeton. It is being given in addition to the Friday chamber concert series, in order to encourage and support student performers, always a goal of the Friends of Music.

The program Saturday will include songs by Meesiaen and Sauguay, sung by Nancy Lambert, soprano, and Bach's Partita in A minor and Beethoven's Sonata Opus 90, performed by pianist James Charmichael. Miss Lambert and tenor Jeffrey Gall will sing the garden scene from Gounod's "Faust," and the Renaissance Singers will present a group of madrigals.

AMATEURS SET MASS

For Sunday Reading. The Society of Musical Amateurs will meet Sunday afternoon for an "a cappella" program, under conductor Leon DuBois. The featured work will be Thompson's "Mass of the Holy Spirit."

The meeting in Woolworth Center on the Princeton University campus is open to all musically interested persons, but there is a slight fee for non-members' music and refreshments. Non-members wishing to come should contact Mrs. M. B. Gottlieb in advance, at 921-7214. Anyone wishing to join the Society may do so at the door.

TO PLAY OWN MASS

Organist Frey Returns. Richard E. Frey, organist and composer, will accompany a mixed choir of students from Westminster Choir College and Eastern Baptist Seminary in concert at Miller Chapel of Princeton Theological Seminary, Thursday at 1:35. The program is open to the public without charge.

The Work of the Hands

At Cane Farm the work of the hand has not been forgotten. The hands once so learned in the fine old crafts are hard at work here . . . still taking deep satisfaction in the doing of it.

We at Cane Farm have not lost touch with our working heritage. The hands that today re-create the timeless warmth of early American furniture, that restore the old things you hold dear, that produce the venerable designs in Oriental carpeting, or loom the gracious sturdiness into our fabrics for the home . . . these hands still work in the proud, patient spirit of old.

And so the satisfaction is still there . . . for us, for you and yours . . . for today and tomorrow.

Each month several thousand Americans deduct 10% Federal tax before paying their telephone bills. They do this to resist a tax that was directly intended to pay for the war in Vietnam. "It is clear that the Vietnam and only the Vietnam operation makes this (tax) bill necessary."

DESSERT-BRIDGE TO BENEFIT TRAINING SCHOOL FOR BOYS: Members of the Woman's Club meet to plan for a dessert-bridge to benefit the New Jersey Training School for Boys at Skillman. From left are Mrs. C. Lance Marshall, Mrs. Roger Willock, Mrs. Geoffrey Sage and Mrs. F. Robert Michael. Tickets at $2 for the May 1 affair may be obtained from any member of the club's committee or at the school.

CLUB News

Princeton Junction Neighborhood Association: Sunday at 8 in the Princeton Junction Fire house, Alexander Road.

Woman's Club of Princeton: dessert-bridge party on Friday, May 1, to benefit the New Jersey Training School for Boys, Skillman. Tickets at $2 may be obtained from any member of the committee or at the newly-established school, where very young boys (ages 8-13) are rehabilitated.

Tours of the campus and separate cottages will be given, to see how the boys live in supervised groups of 15. The school functions year-round, accommodating about 200 boys with regular school classes and sports, and providing medical and psychiatric services.

In charge of the benefit is Mrs. Max Mesner, with assistance from Mrs. C. Lance Marshall (tickets), Mrs. R. Birchall Kimble (tallies), Mrs. F. Robert Michael (decorations), Mesdames Stuart S. Drier and Carl H. Hack (card tables), and Mrs. Bonsall Strong (dessert). Members of the American Home department of the club have been asked to make and donate the desserts, which will be served at 1 p.m., followed by bridge or games for tables of four.

Mrs. Geoffrey Sage, coordinator of volunteers at the school, welcomes inquiries from groups or individuals who could be of service by sponsoring a boy or cottage, helping in classrooms, or arranging holiday treats.

Women's College Club: Monday at 1:30 in the All Saints Chapel, Van Dyke Road, to hear Professor Mark E. Singley's talk "An Alarmist Discusses the Abuse of Land in New Jersey."

Professor Singley chairs the department of agricultural engineering at Rutgers, and is chairman of the Hillsborough Township planning board, Somerset County. Hostesses for the tea following the meeting include Mesdames H. S. Broad, C. R. Frank, J. Y. Berry, W. B. Butterworth, A. R. Main, and S. T. Peterson.

Riverside PTO: Annual Book Fair, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from 1 to 4 in the school's all-purpose room. Books will be supplied by the Princeton University Store children's book department. Those supplied will be primarily for the K-5 age group, although there will be some books for pre-kindergarteners as well as for older children.

English-Speaking Unico, Princeton Branch: annual dinner-meeting Friday, April 24, at the Princeton inn, at 7. The guest of honor will be Lord Caradon, Minister of State for Foreign Affairs and Permanent United Kingdom Representative to the United Nations, since 1964. Those interested in attending the dinner should call Mrs. Arnold Roth, hospitality chairman at 921-2348.

John Witherspoon PTA: The Spring Book Fair is scheduled for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and will include an "Ecology Extravaganza" in the Great Hall. Children and adults are welcome to come choose among the second-hand books, paperbacks, posters, and a large selection of new books that will be on display. Coffee will be served.

West Windsor Democratic Club: Monday at 8 in the Princeton Junction firehouse. Guest John Watson, newly-appointed Black Freeholder in Mercer County, will discuss newly-emerging political coalitions in the state. All interested persons are invited.

Garden Club of Princeton: The French Market at Nassau and Mercer streets re-opens Friday, and "business as usual" will run from 8 to 11, with a fine selection of cut spring flowers and flowering shrubs. A wide variety of plants has been donated from the grounds and gardens of the club's members. The French Market will operate at the same hours each Friday through June 5.

Hightstown Registered Nurses Association will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m., at the Old Yorke Inn. Election of new officers will be held and plans for the May 19th dinner will be announced.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Dr. Harvey Rothberg of Princeton, who will discuss Cancer research and new methods of treatment. All active and inactive nurses are invited.

Lawrence Township Senior Citizens: noon, Tuesday, at American Legion Hendquarters. April birthday members will be honored and cards and Bingo will provide entertainment.

Lawrenceville Grange 170: Covered-dish supper 6:30 Tuesday in Firemen's Hall, under the direction of Mr and Mrs. Mervin Shivers, followed by regular business meeting. The Youth Committee will present a program of entertainment following the meeting. Grange 170 will be the guests of Pennington Grange Friday, April 24, and will play host to Mercer County Pomona Grange Saturday in the Pennington Grange Hall.

Princeton Fire Police Patrol: New officers for 1970 are: captain — Joseph Huff, Mercer No. 3; first lieutenant — Alfred Packer, Engine Company No. 1; second lieutenant — Thomas Proccacino, Hook & Ladder; secretary-treasurer—Harry J. Wright III, Mercer No. 3. The patrol, organized in 1923, was originally armed at protecting firemen and equipment during a fire. Since then it has taken on other duties, such as directing traffic, putting up fire lines, and protecting property. It is composed of 36 members appointed from the three fire companies in the Borough, and it has full police power during a fire.

Should Christianity heal today?

Christ Jesus taught and proved the power of Truth to heal.

The Bible records that he "healed all manner of disease among the people," and he taught all those who followed him to "go and do likewise."

And many do.

Christian Science teaches the present power of God to heal, and this healing is going on today throughout the world.

In our Reading Room you will enjoy reading the inspiring weekly Bible Lessons which reveal the spiritually scientific basis for Jesus' marvelous healing works.

You are welcome to come in and read in our quiet room today.

Seven Years Later

Back in 1963 when she was 12, Margaret Alexandersen of Griggstown leaned over the rail of the good ship Oslofjord and dropped a bottle containing a bit of paper with a message and her name and address.

Two weeks ago, a deep-sea fisherman out in his boat between Miami and Key West, fished Margaret's bottle out of the Atlantic. Date the message was "mailed": September 22, 1963. Date of pick-up, April 4, 1970.

Margaret, now almost 18 and a student at Franklin High, doesn't quite remember where in the Atlantic she dropped the bottle overboard. She was returning to New York from Norway at the time.

The fisherman and his wife were almost as excited as Margaret over their find, and promptly replied. They did not, however, mail the note in a bottle!

Margaret's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ole Alexandersen.

In addition to books, throughout the year the library offers 8mm and 16mm films, recordings, current magazines and newspapers as well as interesting programs for children.

Among the Friends of the Princeton Public Library who will be on hand from 9:30 to 11 each morning to greet visitors and answer questions are: Mrs. Clayton M Hall, Mrs. G. C. Akerlof, Thomas C. ENVIRONMENT IS TOPIC

Of "Earth Day." A Princeton town-and-gown effort known as "Earth Day" will be held on Wednesday, April 22. On the evening before, a community meeting in Dillon Gymnasium will feature prominent speakers on the topic, "Answer To The People—The Uses and Abuses of Our Natural Environment.

Activities are under the direction of Princeton Ecology Action, a campus-based unit. Princeton senior Douglas Nagy of Honolulu, a leader in the group, states that the Earth Day purpose is translate concern for environmental pollution into informed action.

"Most people are interested and concerned," he said last week, but they don't know what to do."

The April 21 meeting in the gymnasium will offer brief talks by Laurence S. Rockefeller, an active conservationist, Richard Sullivan, director of the New Jersey Office of Clean Air and Water; Gordon MacDonald of the Council on Environmental Quality, and Nayeeb N. Hallaby, president of Pan American World Airways.

Other participants will include Senator Clifford Case, Garry Soucie of Friends of the Earth and Richard Falk, professor of politics.

The Earth Day program on the 22nd begins with a 9:30 a.m. service in the University Chapel. The morning will be devoted to workshops on wilderness areas, resource conservation, energy production and consumption and pollution, and the war. In the afternoon, field trips and further workshops are scheduled. (See advertisement, page 14, for further details.)

WILBUR KERR HONORED

By Hook and Ladder Co. Members of the Princeton Hook and Ladder Fire Company last week honored the late Wilbur F. Kerr, Sr., one of the company's most active and dedicated members.

A plaque dedicating the trustees' room as the Wilbur F. Kerr Sr. Memorial Room was presented to the company by John W. Donaldson, Jr. The Rev. William Tucker gave the invocation and dedication prayer, and mayors William Cawley of the Borough and John Wallace of the Township were present for the ceremony. Company members and a contingent of the H&L old timers also assisted.

Mr. Kerr, considered "Mr. Hook & Ladder" by the members, joined the company in 1907, served as president from 1923 to

BOOK SALE TO START

Hundreds of Volumes Offered. The annual Bryn Mawr Book Sale will get under way for adults Wednesday in the gymnasium behind Borough Hall. Also, this year, a special "Children's Night" on Tuesday between 6 and 8 will allow the youngsters first crack at the juvenile selection available.

Hours of the sale are: noon to 9 Wednesday, 9 to 9 Thursday and Friday, and 9 to 1 Saturday. All books will be half-price on Friday and Saturday, and in past years the average book price has been between 30 and 40 cents.

The Bryn Mawr alumnae organizing the sale list many categories of books for all tastes, including fiction, travel, poetry, history, biographies, reference books and rare books. Texts available cover the range from religion and philosophy to match and foreign languages. Many sets of works in good condition, some even leather-bound, are available. Humor, art, architecture, music, "How-To" books, paperbacks by the hundreds, and old National Geographic are a variable.

A table of recent best-sellers has been drastically reduced from original list prices, and a special section on ecology is set up in honor of Environment Day, April 22.

Co-chairmen Mrs. James Crimmins and Mrs. Joseph Wilder have arranged for the sale of sandwich lunches and other refreshments daily except Saturday. Shopping bags to carry purchases home are provided by Harper's Bazaar magazine. All proceeds from the sale will go toward scholarships at Bryn Mawr for Princeton area girls.

LATIN AWARDS SET

Music and Talk in Program. The Latin Honor Awards program of Princeton High School will take place Thursday afternoon at 3 in the school's auditorium.

Members of the faculty and administration, students in the Latin department and their parents, as well as other friends of the school and Middle School students of grades 6, 7 and 8, along with their parents, have been invited.

For the program, the PHS choir will sing special music in Latin, including "Dixit," "Confitebor," and "Laudate Dominum." The choir is under the direction of William Trego.

The featured talk will be an illustrated lecture on "The Tomb of Cleopatra" by Mrs. Homer A. Thompson, a member of the Agora Excavation staff. Her husband, Professor Thompson directed the Agora Excavations until his recent retirement.

After the meeting, a reception will be given with refreshments in the cafeteria. Members of the String Ensemble from the PHS orchestra under Sylvan Friedman will furnish music for the reception.

Obituaries

John H. O'Hara, 65, internationally known novelist and short story writer, died April 11 of a heart attack in his home on Pretty Brook Road.

He was the author of "Appointment in Samarra," Butterfield 8," "Pal Joey," "Ten North Frederick," " From The Terrace" and many volumes of short stories. His 37th book, "Lovely Childs: A Philadelphia Story," was published last December.

According to Mercer County Medical Examiner, Dr. Matthew Lapin, Mr. O'Hara had been under treatment for heart trouble for about a year. He complained of severe chest pains during the past week and was awakened Friday night by a recurrence of the pain. The time of death was put at 6 a.m.

Born in Pottsville, Pa., on January 21, 1905, Mr. O'Hara was the eldest of eight children of Patrick H. and Katherine D. O'Hara. His father was a surgeon.

After graduation from Niagara Preparatory School, he was required to work for a year before entering Yale. His father died during the interim and the family fortunes changed. O'Hara found a job as a reporter on the Pottsville Journal and then traveled West, worked on a steamer and took a job in an amusement park.

An admirer of the small-town stories of Owen Johnson and Booth Tarkington, and devoted to the work of F. Scott Fitzgerald, he eventually went to New York, where he worked on Time, the New York Herald Tribune and The New Yorker. He was at various times re-write man, football writer, drama critic and religion reporter.

John H. O'Hara

In The New Yorker First. His first short story in The New Yorker appeared in 1928. In 1934 his first novel, "Appointment in Samorra" was published, drawing instant acclaim. Tightly and toughly written, was the first of a number of stories set in the small, grimy Pennsylvania town of "Gibbsville," his native Pottstown.

Mr. O'Hara mirrored his generation in his novels and stories, writing fast-action fiction in a deceptively simple style, showing an extraordinary ear for dialogue. In Princeton, where he moved in 1953, he started his writing time around 1 a.m.

His novel "Pal Joey" appeared in 1940. It was staged as a musical in 1942 without success. But the 1952 revival won the New York Critics Circle and Donaldson awards for the best musical of the year.

Between 1944 and 1955, he devoted his time to short stories. The publication of the novel "Ten North Frederick" in 1955 marked the beginning of increased activity that averaged a book a year until his death. "Ten North Frederick" was banned as obscene in Detroit and Boston. O'Hara's reputation is ranked in the company of Faulkner, Hemingway and Steinbeck.

He was married three times. His first marriage to Helen R. Petit ended after two years. In 1937, he married Belle Wylie. They had a daughter, Wylie. Mrs. O'Hara died while her husband was recovering from a massive stomach hemorrhage that nearly took his life. A year later, he married Katharine Barnes Bryan.

Surviving are his widow; one daughter, Mrs. Dennis J. Holahan of Aspen, Colo.; two grandchildren; two sisters, Miss Mary O'Hara and Mrs. Robert Fuldner, and five brothers, Martin, Eugene, James, Joseph and Thomas.

The service will be held at 9:30 this Thursday in Princeton University Chapel, Dean Ernest Gordon officiating. Burial will be private. There will be no calling hours. Memorial gifts may be made to the Princeton YMCA Building Fund. Arrangements were made by the Mather Funeral Home.

Robert M. Scoon, 83, Stuart Professor of Philosophy, emeritus, at Princeton University, died April 8 at his home, 59 Wilson Road.

Professor Scoon, a native of Geneva, N.Y., taught at Princeton from 1911 until his retirement in 1955, with the exception of the year 1914-15, spent at Washington University, St. Louis.

He was widely known for his undergraduate courses in philosophy, including "History of Philosophy: Ancient and Modern," while his best-known published work was "Greek Philosophy Before Plato."

Dr. Scoon was graduated from Hamilton College in 1907 and received a B.S. from Oxford University in 1910 on a Rhodes Scholarship. He received his doctorate from Columbia University and in 1939 was awarded an honorary L.H.D. from Hamilton.

He began his career at Princeton as an instructor in classics, becoming an associate professor of philosophy in 1923 and a full professor in 1928. He was named to the Stuart Professorship in 1936.

Dr. Scoon was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and was a former president of its Princeton chapter; of the American Philosophical Association, the American Legion and the American Association of University professors. He was a past president of the English Speaking Union and had been a member of the trustee board of the Princeton Student Christian Association.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth G. Hibben, daughter of the late John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton from 1912 to 1932; his son, John G. H. Scoon of Albuquerque; four grandchildren, and a sister, Miss Carolyn Scoon of Princeton.

A memorial service was held on Friday in the First Presbyterian Church. Funeral arrangements were made by the Mather Funeral Home.

TIGERS ON THE ROAD

Little Action at Home. Most Princeton spring sports teams will be in action away from home this weekend, with the Tigers hoping to make progress toward possible first-place finishes in baseball and lacrosse. The schedule at home calls only for a track meet against Harvard in Palmer Stadium Saturday at 2 and tennis matches with Army Friday at 4 and North Carolina Saturday at 2, as well as a 150-lb. regatta among Cornell, Princeton and Rutgers on the lake at 3:15.

Pennsylvania was a somewhat surprising victor over the track team at Philadelphia last week, the Tigers' 94-69 loss indicating that the ever-powerful Crimson will not have an abundance of competition Saturday. However, John Conroy's teenis team is even stronger than in recent years: in its first three matches, it not only won every point from Fordham, the Air Force and Georgetown, but every set as well.

The baseball team, off to its best start in some years in the Eastern League as a result of a victory over Harvard and a split with Dartmouth, plays Yale at New Haven Friday and Brown at Providence Saturday in a doubleheader. Pitching depth remains a problem, but the Tigers are still hitting with considerable authority.

The crew appears to be heading for trouble in the Childs Cup race on the Schuylkill. Penn, the defending champion, is as good a boat as the east has with the exception of Harvard.

Ivy lacrosse action begins at Providence Saturday for Princeton. Brown is one of the strongest teams in the league, and the Tigers will have their hands full as they aim for a title to give Coach Ferris Thomsen in his final year here.

BALL TEAM HANGS ON

To Gain Split with Dartmouth. Five hours and 25 minutes after Saturday's doubleheader began, Ray Huard rifled a single down the left field foul line to bring home the winning run against Dartmouth, offsetting the Indians' 5-0 victory in the first game. His line shot gave the Tigers an 8-7 triumph in the last of the 10th—the third extra round of the seven-inning affair.

Huard, a highly-capable third basemen as a sophomore, has been converted to a pitcher this season, and had a 5-0 lead after three innings. However, he was the victim of two costly errors, Dartmouth using them to rally strongly and Coach Eddie Donovan replaced him on the mound when the visitors put together a four-run fifth. Donovan's decision to play Huard at second kept him in the lineup, and after Captain Todd Faulkner tripled with one down in the last of the tenth, it was Huard's clean hit over third which broke up the game.

The Tigers continue to pound the ball in a manner rarely seen here, and a number of the regulars are hitting somewhere between .300 and .450. Sophomore Doug Blake, for example, got three triples in the games against Harvard and Dartmouth, two of them in one inning against the Crimson.

Bob Schiffner, who was an all-league selection as a sophomore, was four for five in the second game against Dartmouth, including a triple, while Huard was three for four, one of them a triple, and had three rbi's. All is not clover, of course: the team appeared to clutch against some mediocre Dartmouth pitching in the second game, going more than four innings without a safety until Faulkner's long blast over the centerfielder's head in the tenth. It was Princeton's first victory over the Green since 1964.

The Indians' coasted to victory in the opener behind brilliant pitching from Pete Broberg, a sophomore whose father was a basketball star at Hanover more than a quarter-century ago. He allowed just two hits, one of them scratch.

Bob Wolff, on the mound for the Tigers, was the victim of his own misplay in the inning which proved decisive. With the bases filled and one out, Dartmouth tried the squeeze and Wolff easily caught the pop bunt. The runner from third could have been picked off by 30 feet but Wolff never saw him and his wild throw to first allowed two runs to score.

Harvard an 8-5 Victim. A seven-run second inning in which 11 men batted provided most of Princeton's margin over Harvard Friday. This was the round in which Blake opened with a triple to left and hit for three bases to deep center when he came up again, eight men later. Harvard errors helped the cause, and only two of the victors' runs were earned.

Jack Hitson went the distance for the Tigers, somewhat shakily at times, but worked well in the eighth and ninth innings. The contest ended with the tying run at the plate when centerfielder Paul Colburn made a running catch of a line drive and doubled Pete Varney, the 235-lb. tight end on Harvard's football team, off second. Varney, playing first base, had a double and a 430-foot home run during the game, which went to Princeton, 8 to 5.

The Tigers had a Tuesday game with Rutgers (see page 39) and face Villanova here next Tuesday at 4. If the pitching improves, there is enough power at the plate and adequate defensive ability to keep them in the battling for both an NCAA berth and the Eastern League title well into May.

CREW TOPS NAVY

In Sunday Race. The high winds which buffeted the eastern seaboard Saturday were more than Princeton and Navy crews could handle on the Severn River. A 24-hour postponement failed to deter the Tigers, however, as they trimmed the midship men for the ninth year in a row. In view of Navy's predilection for things aquatic, it is one of the more unusual streaks in athletic rivalry.

A good start and a fine sprint at the finish were the basic factors in Princeton's half-length triumph. The time over the 2,000-meters of choppy water was 6.42.

Navy's lacrosse team was something else again, easily defeating Princeton, 9 to 3. It was close for one period but 6-1 at the half.

The Tigers had Army on the schedule here Wednesday afternoon, with the cadets heavily favored to hand Princeton its fourth straight defeat. Despite the experience gained against tough opposition this season, it will be diffcult to convert to winning ways against some of the top Ivy teams.

PHS TIED IN OPENER

Hamilton Nine Here Tuesday. Held hitless by Princeton High School's Jeff Haring for six innings, visiting Cathedral erupted for four hits and four runs in the last inning Monday to tie the game, 4-4. After playing one more scoreless frame, the game was called at the end of eight on account of darkness. It was the Little Tigers' opening game.

As a result, a frustrated PHS team will try to nail down that first one Thursday when it travels to Ewing for a 3:45 contest. The team will then play at Lawrenceville School on Monday and entertain Hamilton here Tuesday. Starting time for the latter two is also 3:45 p.m.

HODGES IS BACK at backstop for the PHS baseball team. John Hodges, who shared the position last year with Chuck Arnold, will probably share it again with sophomore comer Ray Richards.

In the opener Haring seemed headed for a no-hitter. Through the first six frames, he fanned seven and walked only three. He was most effective in the fourth when he struck out the side after each batter had worked him to a 3-2 count.

Only in the sixth did a Cathedral runner reach third base. Sam Orha walked, stole second and third. But a glittering back handed grab of a ground ball by second baseman Breezy Boccanfuso preserved Haring's no-hitter.

The Little Tigers, meanwhile, had Cathedral hurler Art Pitkowski in constant hot water, and only some mental lapses prevented them from breaking the game wide open. PHS got its first run in the second when Pitkowski walked LouJohn Rossi. Harring, Ray Pettus and Boccanfuso to force in the run.

In the fourth, the home team bunched five hits for three runs. Pettus lead off with a single between second and short. Walt Dimitruk followed with a bloop single but Pettus, the victim of some conflicting running advice, was out at second — one of the mental errors coach Harry Zoll was to rue later.

Grover Has Key Hit. Boccanfuso and John Cushman kept the rally going with singles, Cushman's blow scoring Dimitruk. Cushman then stole second and Jeff Bannon walked to jam the bases. Jeff Grover, who led Princeton at the plate with three hits in four at bats, lined a hard shot past third, scoring two more. After catcher John Hodges flied out to right, Bannon was the third out in an attempted double steal that didn't come off.

It seemed to be enough at the time. Haring, overpowering, showed no signs of letting up. The last three outs seemed a mere formality.

First up, pinch hitter Dominick Anepete lined a shot to center for Cathedral's first hit. After the next batter struck out, Nick Massari walked. Pinch hitter Don Langan then rifled a shot to center that got by Rosa for an error and two runs scored. Tony Minjelli followed with his first hit. He stole second.

Orha was Haring's ninth strikeout victim. Needing one more out, Haring watched in dismay as pinch hitter Jack Cust singled to right field to tie the score.

Considering it was Princeton's first game of the season — Cathedral had lost its first two to Holy Cross and Hamilton — the Blue and White looked sharp at the plate and on the mound. But those mental errors . . .

The most damaging look place in the third inning, and cost PHS at least one run. Bannon led off with a single. Grover followed suit. When Hodges hit a grounder to second, Grover ran into second with his hands up. He was out but so was Hodges at first even though the throw got past the first baseman. The umpire ruled interference by Grover on the play.

Meanwhile, Bannon had scored from second, but after a discussion involving both umpires and both coaches, he was ordered back to third. The umpire ruled under high school rules the ball was dead from the moment of interference, a decision Zoll contested.

Haring fanned to end the inning without a run. And so it went: a bittersweet beginning.

PHS STICKMEN WIN BIG

Top Livingston, 12-4. An afternoon which started off on the wrong foot ended in fine fashion for the Princeton High School lacrosse team Friday when it returned from Livingston with its first victory of the season. PHS won, 12-4.

First the PHS bus got lost in the labyrinthine highway system of North Jersey. It was cold. The team, its confidence in itself ebbing after giving up 19 goals while scoring only two of its own in the season's first two games, was no doubt wondering how it would perform against newcomer Livingston.

"But the ride was well worth it," coach Marvin Trotman said later. "We had a real good game." The Little Tigers soon forgot the cold as they warmed to the feeling of scoring soon and often. By half-time, they had a comfortable lead.

Trotman is hopeful the infusion of new confidence will aid his team next week when it will again meet two newcomers, Friday at 3:45. PHS will play Pingry in Hightstown. Wednesday afternoon at 3:45 at Community Park it will entertain, also for the first time, Newton High School.

Two Score 7 Goals. A pair of Little Tiger midfielders personally brought Livingston to its knees. Mike Tomlinson scored four goals — it's been some time since that has happened—and Phil Matthews added three more. Trotman received single tallies from Mitchell Schoch, Jeff Bollentin, Tim Taggart, Mike McConnell and Andy Keiser.

Nick Robinson and Brooks Mohrmann shared the net, each giving up two goals.

What accounted for the turnabout? "We played a much better defensive game," explained Trotman. "They didn't have the ball in our zone too much."

A second reason offered by Trotman was more movement, more hustle. "We had more shots at goal. We weren't moving enough before. This time we had some movement and consequently more shots at goal," said Trotman.

PDS NINE DROPS FIRST

Meets New Church Friday. A one-run loss to Germantown Friends, supposedly the class team in the day school division of the Penn-Jersey League, left the Princeton Day School baseball team with an 0-1 record, but, in addition, a feeling that it can meet the other teams on equal terms.

Including a scheduled match against Friends Central on Wednesday away, the Panthers will have their third straight contest against an opponent in their division, when they meet Academy of the New Church at 3 p.m. Friday at home. Although it will meet all of these teams a second time, these are the important games for PDS to win if it is to continue in contention for the top spot in its division.

Last Friday, Germantown was able to depart with a 5-4 victory, made possible by two unearned runs in the sixth, after the Blue and White had taken a 4-3 lead an inning earlier. Two base hits, a couple of wild pitches and two crucial errors on a fly ball produced the winning tallies.

Scoreless for four innings, the Panthers erupted for four runs in the fifth. Dave Claghorn got things rolling with a single, Kirk Moore reached safely on a dropped third strike after one out, Pete McCandless got one run in when his grounder to third was misplayed, and after a double steal and a walk to Carl Jacobelli, Terry Booth cleared the bases with a three-run double.

On the mound, Claghorn pitched well enough to win, giving up just five hits, while striking out six and walking an equal number. PDS could only manage four hits, but it left eight men on base and had a man in scoring position in every inning but one.

The Panthers were guilty of three miscues, while Germantown committed only one, and in tight games this usually makes the difference.

PDS STICKMEN VICTORS

Face Lawrenceville Again. Hoping for a repeat performance in just a week's time, the Princeton Day lacrosse team will go against the Lawrenceville varsity B team at 3 p.m. Friday away. In its first game of the season last Friday, PDS put on a fine second-half rally to down the Larries, 7-5.

A mid-week contest against George School was scheduled for Wednesday afternoon. The Panthers lost twice to George last season.

Starting slowly in its first game, PDS spotted Lawrenceville an opening lead of 2-0 in the first period, and later on 3-1. The visitors appeared to be in complete control in the early going, firing several shots at freshman goalie Dave Barack. He had 18 saves in all.

After the intermission, however, the Blue and White began to take the play away from Lawrenceville, with the offense able to control the ball for two and three minutes at a time. PDS finally tied the score at 5-5 in the fourth period, and then whipped in two quick goals for the margin of victory.

Tim Smith led the PDS attack with three goals. Bob Salup, a senior who had never played before this season added two more, and John Gordon and Deebs Young had one apiece to complete the scoring for PDS.

HUN SPLITS TWO

George, Friends Central Next. A Hun School baseball team which won a thriller in its opener and got outslugged its second game will try to improve its Penn-Jersey League record this week at the expense of George School and Friends Central.

Hun will be at Newtown, Pa. to play George Saturday at 2:30. A 13-3 victim of Pennington in its most recent start, George School is the defending league champion but has lost heavily through graduation.

Friends Central will be here Wednesday for a 3 p.m. contest. Hun was also scheduled to meet Pennington here this Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 in a game that could tell a lot about who is going to end up wearing the league crown this spring.

Against Perkiomen Saturday, Hun took a 3-0 lead in the first inning. It didn't last long. The home team scored two in the a girl who giggles.

When something's funny. But other than that, Bonnie Vought is a pretty serious-minded girl. In fact, she's probably one of the most conscientious workers you'll find.

Maybe it's because she went through more than six weeks of training to learn all about providing efficient phone service.

Or maybe it's because she has a special feeling for her work. And for the customers she talks to each day.

"You know, I really try to help people," she says. "No kidding. I'm a consumer myself, so I know all about the problems people can run into when they deal with a large company.

"I realize it's frustrating for people when we don't come through like we promised. I just try to convince them that I care about their problems. And I do.

"People often think of us as just the phone company. But we're people, too."

The phone company is people. Well-trained people, like Service Representative Bonnie Vought, who care about doing a good job for you.

second, three in the third and two more in each of the next two innings to send nine runs across.

Hun was only two below Perkiomen in hits but it committed four errors to Perkiomen's one. "A couple of overthrows at second base hurt us," said Hun coach Dave Leete.

Peter Jones hit a solo homer for Hun and Mike Guadagno connected for a pair of triples to lead the losers in slugging. Outfielder Alan Chalifoux chipped in with a pair of singles.

Mike Maguire was charged with the loss. The final score was 9 to 5.

Peddie Edged, 3-2. In its opener with Peddie last week, Hun proved the game is never over until the last man is out. It scored three runs in the last inning after two men were down to edge Peddie, 3-2.

"It was a exciting game," agreed Leete.

Pete Jones lined a triple to open Hun's last chance. It appeared he would die there, however, when Peddie pitcher Bob Roby, borrowing a page from Frank Merriwell, Roby doubled home Sawyer and Harper to win his own ball game.

LITTLE TIGERS ROUTED

In Track Opener. The Princeton High School track team traveled to Bridgewater - Raritan Thursday for its track opener and the Little Tigers returned with claws shorn. Bridgewater won, 94-31.

track. Wednesday the team will be at New Brunswick.

For the results of Tuesday's home opener against St. Anthony, see page 30.

What PHS was unable to do, the host team did five times. It swept the pole vault, broad jump, low hurdles, discus and two mile. PHS won three events as Joe Bolster captured the mile in 4:49, Lawrence Parker the javelin with a toss of 168-10 and Paul Riddell the high hurdles in 17.0.

Don Owens, Bob Best and Steve Foltmy placed second in 100, 440 and 880. Chris Mislow and Bill Beachell took a third place in the shot and javelin, respectively.

WOMEN GOLFERS TO MEET

Friday at Pike Brook. The Women's Nine-Holers of the Pike Brook Country Club will hold their opening 1970 dinner Friday at the club. Members and others interested in joining are welcome.

Mrs. William Merrigan and Mrs. Howard Maher are co-chairmen. Mrs. William Grander, Mrs. Walter Fuchs, Mrs. Howard Konrad and Mrs. Thomas Hye head the tournaments and rules committee.

Mrs. Ruth Quick is secretary; Mrs. John McGavisk, treasurer; Mrs. William Morris and Mrs. Thomas Kenneally, handicap chairmen. Others are Mrs. William Geogan, chairman of prizes, Mrs. Eugene Black and Mrs. William Cooper, hospitality; Mrs. William Kelly, ringer board and round robin; Mrs. Timothy Ellard, publicity, and Mrs. Cavanaugh Brown, hostess.

A "Ladies Day Special" will be held April 28, the opening day of competition. Tee-off time will be between 8:30 and 10:30.

CYCLE RACE SUNDAY

100 Kilometer at Neshanic. The Open 100 Kilometers Team Time Trial bike race sponsored by the Century Road Club will be held Sunday at Neshanic. Teams from New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania will enter this official "Olympic Development Training Plan" event.

Members of the Century team are Harold Halsey, Bob Phillips, John Allis and Doug Dale. Fred Kuhn and Dick Swann are serving as commissaire and timekeeper.

Lou Goering won the Centry RC "Spring Handicap" held Sunday at the Skillman course. His brother, Chuck, finished second and Keith Ward, third.

THREE RACES HELD . . .

By Carnegie Sailing Club. Twenty boats in three different classes took part in Sunday's racing program staged by the Carnegie Sailing Club.

John Reeder was the winner among the 11 Sunfish boats racing, with Bob Holzman second.

THE BEST NUMBER to call for classified advertising is 924-3500

Ed Metcalf won in the Penguin class, in which four boats participated, with Walter Heine as his crew. John Hopfield was the runner-up.

Five Sloops raced, with Paul Porter the winner and Joel Greenberg as crew. Bill Rogers placed second. Moderate breezes and clear weather made conditions ideal.

PHS VS. PEDDIE

In Tennis Tuesday. Coach Bill Hume's Princeton High School tennis team will play its third straight home match of the season Tuesday when it entertains Peddie at 3:30.

Wednesday afternoon at 3:30, the Little Tigers were scheduled to play host to the Hun School. The team won its opener last week against Pennsbury, 4½ to ½.

BALL GAME POSTPONED

Tiger Nine Rained Out. Tuesday's rain forced 24-hour postponement of Princeton's baseball game with Rutgers. If Clarke Field dried in time, plans were to play Wednesday afternoon.

The game was the fifth adversely affected by the weather this spring. Four others have been cancelled and will not be rescheduled. In games they have been able to play, the Tigers have won seven and lost three.

PRACTICES LISTED

For Women's Tennis Team. The Princeton Women's Tennis Team will conduct team practices every Tuesday from 12-30 to 2 and every Friday from 10 to 12 at the Community Park Courts.

Doubles and singles rankings will be determined by a round robin and all members are urged to attend practices. A trophy will be awarded to the player who has won the most games at the end of the season. Complete information is available from Mrs. Kim Drezner at 466-2424.

BOWLING NOTES

Pierre Rolls 633. George Pierre of No. 3 in the Mercer County Firemen's League made his first 600 series at the Princeton Recreation Lanes a good one, rolling 220-244-169 for 633.

Dick Anderson and Dick Traegler rolled 211s. Dave McCloskey had 208, Leslie Luck 205.

The second half in the standings is shaping up as a race between No. 1's, which has the lead with 52 points, and No. 1, which trails by two. No. 3 has 44.

Sickler Named Captain

Bill Sickler, the only member of his class to hold down a starting position for two years, has been elected captain of Princeton's basketball team. He succeeds the first pair of co-captains in the Tiger's athletic history — John Hummer and Jeff Petrie.

Captain and high scorer for the freshmen in 1968, Sickler switched from guard to forward in his junior year on the varsity and boosted his average from 6.3 to 11 points a game. He was second only to Hummer in rebounds.

Coach Pete Carril pays him tribute for his "hustle, effort and defensive skill" and for his constant effort on the court. The 6-3, 185-lb. captain-elect lives in Wantagh, N. Y.

Kevin Delaney of Harrison Athletic Club, which is tied for last place in the Nassau League, spilled the most pins last week on games of 204-185-220 — 609. Santo Tocco of Italian-American Sportsmen's Club rolled 214. Charles Perpetua Jr. of Howe had 211 and Crescent's Mill Shinn had 205. Vince Tufano and Jim Shely each rolled 200.

Both Tiger Garage and Grover Lumber gained four points to remain 1-2 in the standings with 62 and 56 points. Hill Climbers has 52.

Angelo Tamasi of Tamasi Plumbing was high man in the A League with a 228. Teammate Mike Boccanfuso had 219. Frank Delneso of Princeton Inn had 223. Between 211 and 200 were Ed Duncan, Mark Jacob, Jim Kahny, Don Snyder, Vince Tufano and Joe Baldino.

League-leading Princeton Inn swept all three games from Ivy Inn to increase its margin over runner-up Stefaneli by 10, 62-52. Ivy Inn has 48 points and third place.

Taps and Hi-Lo's are tied at 12-12 for the lead in the Blue Angels Hi-Y League. King Pins has 10 while Mixers is a distant last with two.

Jack Petrone Jr. rolled 164-180 and younger brother, Jamie, had 167. Jeff Grover rolled 160, two more than the high game fashioned by Peter Thompson.

Proprietor Dave Burrough promised a trophy to every woman who rolled a 200 or higher game in the Business Woman's League. He has run out of room on his listing board — and will run out of money soon, too, if the spate of 200 games fashioned by the women this year continues.

Two more were added to the board last week: Jean Bucci rolled 203 and Bea Stalcup had a 202. Another example of the rise of feminism?

Ruth Bonin and Dail Forsyth had 191 and 193 respectively. Rolling a pair were Beverly Kiss, 181-189; Carole Harris, 167-171; Dot Thorseil, 172-160; Sis Snyder, 160-168; Peg Ranallo, 162-168; and Louise Fugill, 168-151. Jane Rauch and Sue Schilling had 176 and 177. Dot Wheeler claimed 182.

In the 160s were Margaret Campbell, Marilyn Wilson, Diane Fowler, Betty Pirone, Phyllis Boccanfuso, Gail Echevarria, Lillian Burrough and Irene Tufano.

University Cleaners widened its margin of one point over Carousel to five, 48-43. Rocky Hill Inn has 42, Nini Plymouth 39.

ROCKY IS SHUT OUT

By Rosso's Cafe. If Rocky & Sons were ever to do its thing, last week was the time: it was position night in the Princeton Women's Bowling League.

Rocky was in position to pick up eight points if it could sweep Rosso's Cafe and once attain challenge the leaders. Instead Rocky got blanked, 8-0, by Rosso's. What was once a race has become a runaway, with Rosso's owning a 75-55 margin.

In other confrontations, Pin Pals blanked Swift's Colonial Diner, 8-0, to take over third place with 50 points. Cranbury Bank and Will's Shell split, 4-4, while Mettler topped Plainsboro Package Store, 6-2.

The top individual bowlers were Sara Rose (186-168) and Marilyn Silvester (180-180-166). Both roll for Rosso's. Marilyn Murphy of Cranbury Bank had 162.

Rosso's also fashioned the high team series of 2300.

STAFF CHANGES MADE

At Applied Research. A realignment of its senior management was announced this week by Princeton Applied Research, manufacturer of electronic instruments for scientific research.

Emil W. Lehmann has resigned his post as president. As chairman of the board and chief executive officer, he will continue his responsibilities for staff functions, including facilities, personnel, finance and planning for long-term corporation growth.

Appointed president and chief operating officer is O. C. Chaykowsky, who was formerly vice-president for marketing and sales. He now has full responsibility for the company's operating division.

In other management changes, Harry S. Reichard was named vice-president for research and development, replacing Dr. Thomas Coor, the company's chief scientist who will now devote himself exclusively to research and product development. Gary Hammond, controller since 1965, has been appointed vice-president for finance.

Mr. Lehmann had served as President of the company since its founding in 1961. A graduate of Harvard, he holds an M.S. degree in Electrical Engineering. Before he joined PAR, he was associated with Princeton University's Forrestal Research Center, where he developed instrumentation for the stellerator, an experimental controlled thermonuclear reaction system.

Mr. Chaykowsky, one of the company's founders, led the corporation's sales efforts since 1961. He earned an M.S. in physics from the University of Manitoba, Canada, and has done postgraduate work in electrical engineering at Princeton.

MODEL HOMES OPENING

At "Longmeadow," This Weekend. Opening this weekend is a new tract of homes known as "Longmeadow," on Washington Road between Route 1 and Princeton Junction in Penns Neck. Four model homes may be inspected at the site, and introductory prices of the four- and five-bedroom houses on half-acre lots range from $42,500 to $49,900.

All Longmeadow homes have total air conditioning, deluxe double self cleaning ovens, 200-ampere electric service, and other custom features. The models and office are open seven days a week.

Longmeadow's builders, Stanley Pilshaw and Lewis Kraft, both of Princeton, have built homes together for the past ten years in such places as "Princeton Ridge," in Rocky Hill, "Longacres" in Lawrenceville, and "Point of Woods" in Princeton. Sales director is Charles Graham of Kendall Park, who assures prospective homeowners of "excellent mortgage terms, with no 'points.'" Mr. Graham will be responsible for all sales activities, from mortgage processing to final deed delivery.

AUTOBAHN TO MOVE

To Route One Site. Autobahn Motors of Trenton is building a new showroom and headquarters on Routel, three miles north of Trenton between the Lawrence Township elementary school and the Nassau Diner. The company, a dealer fur Mercedes-Benz and Volkswagen, expects to occupy the new facility in August.

The new 33,000 square foot building will include a showroom, parts department, 13,000 square feet of service facilities, and offices and lounges. A large front canopy will protect customers in bad weather.

The new facility is nearly three times as large as the present Autobahn headquarters, 39 Arctic Parkway, where the dealer has been located for ten years. A company spokesman this week said 10 additional employees would probably be hired when the new building is ready, raising the number of people employed to 45.

LIBRARY IS DEDICATED

Designed by Holt & Morgan. A library addition on the Camden campus of Rutgers, designed by Holt & Morgan, architects, was dedicated last Friday.

The $1.3 million structure of brick and glass was developed to satisfy the needs of a rapidly-growing college community: it more than doubles the available library space, and triples the library capacity. Included in the facility are new open stacks, a rare book area, a microfilm reading room, study rooms, offices, lounges and browsing room.

Holt & Morgan, with offices on Nassau Street, is currently engaged in designing a new dining hall for Douglass College on its New Brunswick campus.

THE FREIGHT STATION IS DOING WELL!

Two years ago I opened the Freight Station at Turntable Junction. For the most part I featured what I liked in contemporary gifts and accessories. I made mistakes —sometimes real Lulus! But slowly and surely I found a growing clientele and I've finally turned the corner. I have been blessed, too, to find a marvelous Swedish assistant, Gun, who has taken a personal interest in the shop.

But I have lots of bills and want to reduce my indebtedness. With such a fine assistant available to assume responsibilities, I can work elsewhere and add to the assets of the business. At this point I'm not sure where I can be of best use — many firms have little use for a generalist. My experience has been broad, beginning with the Navy, College (St. John's, Annapolis, etc.), co-founder, and vice-president of a recarding company (Elektra); sometime actor and director, high school English teacher and shopkeeper.

I am looking for a position where I can work five days a week, leaving my weekends free for the shop and my evenings free for my avocation with the Hunterdon Repertory Company. I can be reached at the shop any day 10:30-5:30. Tel. 201-782-8316.

Obituaries

Nicholas G. Cameron, 64, of Cherry Valley Road, died April 12 in Princeton Hospital. He was an administrator with Brockway Glass Company.

Born in Princeton and a lifelong resident here, Mr. Cameron served in World War II. He was a graduate of Yale University.

He is survived by his wife, Katherine M. R. Cameron; two sons, Nicholas A. of New York and Gerard G. 2d, at home; and two brothers, A. Guyot Cameron Jr. and Pierre G. Cameron.

The service was held in the First Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Dr. Donald M. Meisel officiating. Interment was private, under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home. Memorial gifts may be made to the Fresh Air Fund.

Mrs. Clara B. Hart, 48, died April 12 at her home, 19 Winfield Road. She was the wife of Richard W. Hart.

Born in Philadelphia, Mrs. Hart was a graduate of Pine Manor Junior College in the class of 1941 and a member of Trinity Episcopal Church.

Also surviving are two sons, Peter R. of Trenton and Owen L. of Princeton; two daughters, Miss Jacqueline J. Hart and Miss Linda Hart, both of Princeton; a sister, Mrs. Henry P. Tomlinson, and one grandchild.

The service will be held at 11 a.m. Friday in Trinity Church, the Rev. E. Rugby Auer, vicar, officiating. Interment will be in All Saints' cemetery under arrangements by the Mather Funeral Home. In lieu of flowers, memorial gifts may be sent to Princeton Hospital.

Chester A. Raymond, 72, of 37 Palmer Square, died April 12 in Mercer Hospital. He had built and serviced pipe organs since 1924.

Born in Odell, Ill., and a product of the Pacific Northwest, Mr. Raymond combined in his profession the skills sought in acoustical, electrical and mechanical engineers, musicians, metal workers and cabinetmakers, and even physicists. He was one of a handful of members of the Associated Pipe Organ Builders of America. On Tulane Street, later on Spring Street, he maintained the Atlantic seaboard's best-known organ-maintenance establishment.

A student at Butler University during World War I, he interrupted his studies to enlist in the Navy. Later, he successfully operated a pioneering radio station in Wenatchee, Wash. He was in Erie, Pa., en route to Florida, when offered a position with a long-established organ company. In nine years he rose from apprentice to first vice-president and plant superintendent.

In 1933, his duties brought him to Princeton to install the organ in Princeton Seminary's Miller Chapel. His visit suggested the possibilities of a service organization. Launching his business in the midst of the depression, by 1939 Mr. Raymond was no longer soliciting new business, but was flying his own plane from state to state to meet his tight schedule in the area bounded by New York City and Georgia.

He built and installed an organ in First Presbyterian Church in Princeton, at the Coast Guard Academy, New London, and was the Army's technical advisor for West Point's 14,000 pipe organ, one of the nation's largest.

He was a charter member of the Princeton Rotary Club and the Nassau Club of Princeton.

Surviving are his wife, Marion Rule Raymond; a son, Bruce D. of New York City; and his mother, Mrs. Jessie F. Raymond of Wenatchee, Wash.

The service was held in the Niles Chapel of First Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Dr. Donald M. Meisel officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery under direction of the Mather Funeral Home.

GYMNASIUM TRANSFORMED Into Woodland Setting. A portion of the Riverside School gymnasium has been transformed into a woodland setting complete with pond, rustic cabin, trees and other plantings, and may be seen through Friday. Hours are 9-4 daily and Thursday from 6 to 9 p.m.

The exhibit was undertaken by the Riverside PTO as a contribution to the current Environment Month, under the direction of Mrs. Philip E. McPherson. The exhibit includes fresh water fish, a marine life tank, a film on pollution, exhibits on sewer plants and water processing, as well as projects made by Riverside students.

YMCA SETS DATE For First Antique Show. The Princeton's YMCA's first annual Antiques Show will be held May 2-3. Co-Chairmen are Mrs. Francis Clark of Cleveland Road and Mrs. Frank Darling of Ringoes. It will be held for the benefit of summer camp scholarships, youth memberships and program fees for youth participation in various programs.

Assisting the co-chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fullman, 44 Westcott Road; Mrs. John McLusky, 89 Meadowbrook Drive and Mrs. John Sheehan, 94 Baynard Lane. Mrs. Edith Herrick, 487 Stockton Street, and John Puchett and James Gregory of Brick Tavern Antiques in Clinton are advisors.

The committee has plans to invite 32 dealers from surrounding states, representing furniture, glass, china, silver, clocks, prints and art. YMCA youth groups will assist in setting up the show.

GARDEN CLUB TO MEET In Lawrenceville. The Lawrenceville Garden Club will meet at 1 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Miss Helen Manning. Miss Helen Titus will speak on "Preparing the Garden."

LIBRARY 14 YEARS OLD Committee Members Named. The Lawrenceville Community Library is marking its 14th anniversary April 25, with an array of best-sellers available for lending at no charge. The library is located opposite Lawrenceville School, with convenient parking nearby.

News Of The CHURCHES

CONFERENCE PLANNED

Judeo-Christian Dialogue Set. A four-day Jewish Christian dialogue will begin on Tuesday at the Center of Continuing Education at Princeton Theological Seminary. The co-leaders are Professor Seymour Siegel of Jewish Theological Seminary and Professor Christian Beker.

Dr. Beker will present four topics for discussion: The nature of Jewish-Christian dialogue, Paul's understanding of human existance, Paul's understanding of human existence under Christ, and Paul and Israel.

Dr. Siegel will offer for discussion: the people of God and chosenness; the law; sin and repentance, and the Jew and the non Jew. Dr. Jack Cooper, Center director, will lead orientation and summary and evaluation sessions.

SPRING CONCERT SET

By Trinity Choir. The Choir of Men and Boys of Trinity Episcopal Church wil give a concert at 7:30 p.m. next Sunday, April 26, at the church. The program is the last in the current series of Trinity Parish sunday evening concerts.

The featured work on the program will be the rarely-performed, Psalm 110, Dixit Dominus, composed by Handel for five-part chorus, soloists and string orchestra with organ and harpsichord. Also on the program are the Concerto Grosso, Opus 6 No. 12 in B-minor for orchestra; the Psalm 113, Laudate Pueri for solo soprano and orchestra.

Smorgasbord Set

The annual smorgasbord dinner at Trinity Church in Rocky Hill will be held on Saturday, April 25, from 4.30 to 7:30 p.m.

Tickets at $3.50 adults and $2 for children 12 and under may be obtained from any church member. For information, call Mrs. Richard Meyers, 201-359-3259, or Mrs. Edward Metcalf, 921-2386.

James Litton, organist and choirmaster, will conduct.

Soloists include Jean Hakes, soprano; Merodith Rung, soprano; Jean Charley, mezzo-soprano; Robert Rockwell, countertenor; Timothy Seitz, tenar, and Douglas Renfroe, baritone.

Cards of admission may be obtained from the church office and from each choir boy. A limited number of admission cards will be available at the door.

CAR WASH PLANNED

For Saturday. The Senior High Fellowship of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will sponsor a car-wash at the Borough Garage from 10 until 4 on Saturday. The Borough Garage is on Harrison Street next to the Hook and Ladder Company.

The proceeds will go toward the group's participation in a weekend educational program in a Camden ghetto. Members will live in the ghetto environment and take part in activities which will help them to understand the plight of those who live there continuously.

The price for an interior-exterior cleaning job is $1.50.

BULLETIN NOTES

"Trustees of Creation" is the title of the Earth Day observance this Sunday at Christ Congregation, Walnut Lane. Members of the Board of Trustees will participate in the 10 a.m. service.

Peter Putnam will speak at 9 and 11 a.m. services this Sunday in the Unitarian Church, State and Cherry Hill Roads. His topic is "The Language of Love: the Seeing Eye Revisited."

Junior high school members of First Presbyterian Church will hold a clean-up and swim party on Saturday, Aprd 25. Plans call for a cleaning and planting session at the Pine Street playground at 3 p.m. Dinner at the church follows, and then a swim at the YM-YWCA.

The Rev. Eliot Daley and his family will be feted by the congregation of First Presbyterian Church at the Sunday brunch this Sunday.

Dr. Thomas Evans, a Princeton pedintrician, will address the Rector's Forum this Sunday at 10 in Trinity Episcopal Church. His topic is "The Formative Years of Growth" with special emphasis on the small child. His talk is part of a series focusing on "The Recovery of Family Life."

"Doing Your Own Thing" is the title of the sermon this Sunday by the Rev. Harold Thomas of Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church. The service begins at 11 a.m.

The Women's Association of Kingston Presbyterian Church will hold its annual spring luncheon at 11:45 a.m. on Thursday, April 23, at the Old Yorke Inn, Hightstown. The speaker will be Mrs. Louis Schenkweiler, director of Hearts Ease, a home for problem girls, Manhattan. Luncheon is $3. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Paul Mansfield, 924 7836.

Topics Of The Town

H. Dill has named committee members for the coming year. They are: Mrs. Wellington S. Crouse and Mrs. Harlan White, head (publicity), William H. Carroll (Friends of the library), Mrs. A. Richard Kohler, Miss Margaret Maple (librarian), and Mrs. William Davis and Miss Nancy Bennett (assistant librarians).

One of the library windows is available for displays by local artists, and anyone wishing to show works in any medium should contact Mrs. Eugene Morigi, at 896-1340.

SONGS, FILM PLANNED

By Library for Children. The Princeton Public Library will present a picture book "concert" Thursday, April 16 at 10 a.m. The 30 minute program is planned for children aged four through six accompanied by a parent.

Mrs. Caroline Moseley will play the guitar and sing such songs as "Knack knack, paddy whack" (featured on "Sesame Street") which children know and can join her in singing. A skillful and entertaining performer, Mrs. Moseley has delighted groups of children in Boston and in Princeton.

Between songs, two short films ("I Know an Old Lady" and "Frog Went a-Courting") and a filmstrip ("The Fox Went Out on a Chilly Night") will be shown. These folk songs are available in picture book form at the Library.

THERE'S ROOM FOR CHILDREN in this 4-bedroom, 2-bath house on a safe quiet no-thru-traffic street. From the open deck above the garage you'll enjoy the beautifully landscaped grounds. There are oak floors throughout, study or den, complete kitchen, separate dining room, living room with fireplace and garage. $47,800

A LARGE FAMILY will be comfortable in this five bedroom Hopewell Township Cape Cod. The excellent school system is reason enough to locate here, but then there's the huge basement, screened porch, kitchen-breakfast room and breezeway. Both bathrooms include tubs. $45,000

IF SECLUSION is one of your requirements, this two-level, many-windowed house in one of Princeton's best sections is for you. A private road, sun-drenched pool and screened porch overlooking a gorgeous garden, are among its features. There's a flagstone terrace, large living room with fireplace, three bedrooms, big kitchen with separate pantry. The setting, in every season, is superb. $98,000

A CHARMING PLACE — Everything about this two-story house is appealing. It's on a quiet corner but is near Route 206. The house is in mint condition and there are plenty of trees and a high hedge for privacy. The kitchen has wall oven, dishwasher and disposal and house and grounds are flawless. First floor bedroom and bath, living room, dining room, utility room. Two bedrooms, large paneled study and bath on second floor. $57,500

WITHIN WALKING DISTANCE of the University, the train station and the Institute, this one is ideal for an older couple. There are three bedrooms and three baths, fireplaced living room, big kitchen, slate terrace, full basement and one-car garage with storage room. A large front room with clear Northern light is ideal for studio or entertaining. The location can't be topped. $80,000

NEARLY FOUR ACRES of woodland surround this 1½-story, Lawrence Township, house with all the extras that make life enjoyable. Fenced pool, barbecue area, pony barn, four-car wagon shed and room to roam. New paneled family room has fireplace, adjoining bath, guest room above. Two bedrooms and bath upstairs. $65,000

WASHINGTON'S HEADQUARTERS

During a portion of his Central Jersey campaign, the restorer did a detailed and authentic job. George would feel right at home. Of course he might be a bit taken back by the pool, Gazebo and terrace instead of a barnyard but then the inside is so luxurious and comfortable that he would calm down quickly. Plenty of room inside, 9 rooms, 3½ baths in the main residence, 3 car garage, stone grist mill, stone slave quarters, tenant house, 22 acres.

"STEPPING STONES"

This marvelous old house, with its origins in the 18th Century, stands on the banks of the Delaware and Raritan canal in historic and picturesque Griggstown. A big house, with rooms for everything. Separate apartment. Much fascinating detail: hand-hewn ceiling beams, antique mantels and woodwork, etc. Several fireplaces. Well worth the restoration needed to put it in perfect order. $57,500.

IN PRINCETON'S BRAEBURN

The sort of two-story house which is always so in demand. Center hall, living room with fireplace and french doors to the garden, separate dining room, hook-lined study, eat-in kitchen, screened porch, particularly good paneled playroom in the basement with lavatory, 4 bedrooms and 2½ baths. Short walk to the Littlebrook School. $71,500.

A HOUSE WITH CHARM IS HARD TO FIND PARTICULARLY AT $39,000

But we have same, nestled on an acre of apple and flowering trees of all kinds. The piece de resistance is the huge living-dining room with beamed ceiling and stone fireplace. There is a paneled study, full bath and rather bad kitchen on the ground floor as well. Upstairs, 3 bedrooms and tile bath. Garage. Lovely, quiet setting.

EDGEHILL STREET

Charming town house (circa 1850) on a quaint borough street. Easy walk to Nassau Street. Entrance hall, living room with fireplace, dining room, large modern kitchen. Laundry and powder room on first floor. Upstairs are three nice bedrooms and two newly modernized tile baths. The fully fenced little back garden is extra special and completely private. Asking $62,500

THOMPSON COLONIAL

Princeton address. Four airy corner bedrooms, two full baths topside. The first floor has a flagstone foyer. The living room is 24 x 16 and features a pretty bow window and a fireplace. Separate dining room, family room, laundry and a big kitchen with plenty of room to feed moppets. Approximately an acre and a half with lots of trees. A fine buy at $65,000

COLLECTOR'S ITEM

The owner is a "tree nut" — some lucky buyer will inherit an imposing collection of rare and unusual evergreen trees and shrubs plus a fine assortment of dogwood, holly and flowering bulbs. The house has a wide entrance hall, step down living room, formal dining room and a carpeted modern kitchen. The family room is 14 x 27 and has a big fireplace and floor-to-ceiling glass doors to the tarrace. Three bedrooms and two baths on one level plus a fourth bedroom and bath on the garden level. Enormous dry basement. Riverside area. June occupancy $69,500 with trees and sidewalks and children of all ages, this handsome 3 year old has everything you'd hoped to find: center hall, living and dining rooms each with wide banks of windows, super kitchen with large dining area overlooking paneled family room with fireplace and french doors to the terrace, powder room, 4 bedrooms and 2 full baths upstairs. Storms and screens, aluminum siding, central air-conditioning, full, dry basement. $52,900.

ON A QUIET LAWRENCEVILLE STREET

AUDUBON LANE IN WESTERN PRINCETON

is such an ideal location for quiet, comfortable family living, and this nearly new Thompson designed, Hunt and Augustine built Colonial was planned with just that in mind. Two living rooms, one quite formal and the other quite the opposite; cozy paneled study with fireplace and adjoining powder room, an expandable dining room for large parties, a breakfast bar for children's meals and Sunday brunches, well-engineered kitchen, 2 rough and ready hobby-rooms and children's lavatory, all on the ground floor. Upstairs, master suite of bedroom, dressing room and bath, 3 children's bedrooms, bath and laundry. Possible 5th bedroom and bath on the third floor. Screened porch and terrace overlook two wooded acres. $115,000

287 NASSAU STREET, PRINCETON BOROUGH

RAISED RANCH

The colossal condition of this 4 bedroom residence is only a small part of what comprises the attractiveness of this dwelling. It has wall to wall carpeting throughout the hallways, living room, dining room and master bedroom. It has a cheery eat-in kitchen, 2½ baths, laundry room and utility room.

All this is overshadowed by the sensational stone fireplace in the bright family room. An oversized 2 car garage is another feature of this most attractive home.

DIRECTOR OF NURSING

Challenging position offered for clinical specialist in psychiatric nursing. Position has a combined practice and educational focus. There is no service-education dichotomy. Nurses both practice and teach. Many of the administrative tasks ordinarily associated with such a position are carried out by administrative assistants or have been assigned to other departments. The director's expertise is directed toward giving skilled nursing care and working with clinical nursing supervisors to develop the psychiatric nursing skills of staff.

The clinic is a 180 bed hospital with a large professional staff and a progressive short-term treatment program. Master's degree required. Salary open. Excellent benefits. Contact Robert D. Garber, M.D., Medical Director.

Old John had the right idea;

It's unwise to pay too much . . . but it's worse to pay too little. When you pay too much, you lose a little money . . . that's all. When you pay too little, you may lose everything, because the thing you bought was incapable of doing the thing it was bought to do.

The common law of business balance prohibits paying a little and getting a lot it can't be done. If you deal with the lowest bidder, it is well to add something for the risk you run. And if you do that, you will have enough to pay for something better.

Only a snowmobile could go as many places as our well-built Swede.

SAAB is built to be driven even above the Arctic Circle. (A good part of Sweden, where SAAB is built, lies in the Arctic.) And even if you don't have to go through an 8-month long winter, you'll be glad SAAB has front wheel drive, a fresh air heater and fantastic cold starting ability. The fact is, SAAB is the one car really made for winter driving. So if you want a true snowmobile, get a SAAB.
